Control 4 Big Fires In Nevada

170,000 Acres Are Badly Scorched

ELKO, Nev. (AP) — Firefighters appeared today to be winning a battle with four large northeastern Nevada range fires which scorched an estimated 170,000 acres of grassland sagebrush.

A Bureau of Land Management official said three of the blazes were largely controlled overnight. But at last report, a 51,000-acre fire still burned out of control in the rugged, hard-to-reach Boulder Creek area northwest of Elko.

About 900 men were on the fire lines today and 150 more were waiting in Elko to be dispatched.

Other Major Fires

A half dozen other major blazes burned an additional 13,000 acres in northern and central Nevada Saturday and Sunday. Most were set when a series of lightning-charged thunderstorms crossed the state Saturday.

A Boise, Idaho, pilot was killed Sunday when his plane crashed 20 miles north of Elko. He was returning to Boise after flying a group of firefighters to Elko, seat of a vast cattle and sheep ranching area. Two Elko County ranchers were hospitalized with serious burns suffered as they tried to build a fire line with a bulldozer.

Hos Hope

Clair Whitlock, Bureau of Land Management district director, said he hoped all four big fires could be controlled today. "We feel we may be getting on top of the situation. We feel we have adequate men and equipment now to handle anything that might happen unless we get high winds or some unforeseen situations," Whitlock said.

Four hundred Indian firefighters from New Mexico were flown by Air Force transport planes to Elko Sunday night to join 500 men already on the fire lines. Several hundred men fought blazes elsewhere in the state.

Mostly Public Land

Roughly half the area burned was public domain managed by the Bureau of Land Management and half private ranches. Nearly all was valuable grazing land.

There were no reports of major damage to buildings, or structures threatened, except for a campground destroyed by a 6,000-acre fire in the Toiyabe National Forest 10 miles southwest of Austin, in central Nevada. That fire, which the Forest Service said was man-caused, was contained Sunday and expected to be controlled today.

New Fire Strikes Shawangunk Area Sunday Afternoon

A forest fire that raced over 1,100 acres in the Shawangunk Mountains early last week, broke out again Sunday afternoon and volunteer firemen from Kerhonkson and Accord were dispatched to the area. It was reported the firemen were at the scene and fought the flames more than three hours.

The fire was one of many reported by Mutual Aid dispatchers. Centerville and Cedar Grove fire companies covered a rash of fires in that district over the weekend. A brush fire was reported off Fitch Road, West Saugerties. The two fire companies were called out Sunday night to fight a stubborn

Gotham Police Busy On Demonstrations

NEW YORK (AP) — The city had a noisy weekend of unrelated demonstrations — some peaceful, some not — plus youthful rioting and looting after a dance.

SATURDAY: Police battled demonstrators protesting U.S. involvement in Viet Nam, and there was a protest against alleged police brutality in the Bronx.

Three Lose Lives In Area Mishaps; State Totals 24

Twenty-four persons lost their lives in highway accidents in New York State during the weekend, including a Massachusetts man who was killed in a three-car collision in the Town of Poughkeepsie early Sunday.

The Dutchess County highway fatality increased to 31 the highway death toll for 1964. It was the second in the county in two days. The total highway death toll for Dutchess last year was 30.

Five other persons were injured as the result of the three-car collision which occurred shortly before 2 a. m. on Route 55 (Manchester Road) Town of Poughkeepsie.

Killed in the crash was Philip Richardson, 23, of 30 Lake Street, Middletown, Mass. He died of internal injuries.

Driver Charged
Police Lieut. Joseph Rudolph told The Freeman that Donald Kuchler, 19, of Velie Road, Town of LaGrange, driver of one of the vehicles involved in the fatality, was arrested on charges of criminal negligence in the operation of a motor vehicle resulting in a death and drunken driving.

Kuchler will be arraigned later before Town of Poughkeepsie Justice of the Peace George C. Dietz.

SUNDAY: Greek - Americans staged a protest parade and hunger strike against Turkish military activities in Cyprus; several Broadway store windows were smashed and looted by teen-agers; Harlem churches staged a peaceful rally to repudiate racial violence.

The Viet Nam demonstration flared into a pitched battle with police. Several of the 250 demonstrators were knocked to the ground — to the cheers and taunts of spectators. Police arrested 40 persons, including four just returned from an illegal trip to Cuba.

Try Times Square

The marchers, members of a self-described "May 2" movement, named for the date it was formed, tried to demonstrate in Times Square. Rallies have been banned there since the spring of 1962 when 42 persons were arrested while protesting the late President John F. Kennedy's decision to resume nuclear testing in the atmosphere.

Police told the group they could rally at Hammarskjold Plaza, across from the United Nations seven blocks east. The marchers reluctantly headed east, but scuffles with police broke out at three intersections and at the Plaza.

Police described many of the participants as members of the Progressive Labor Movement, the Fair Play for Cuba Committee, and other organizations.

CORE Protests

About 25 members of the Congress of Racial Equality picketed a Bronx police station protesting the shooting of a Negro youth and a Puerto Rican youth by a white police officer.

For about five hours pickets distributed leaflets calling for the suspension of the patrolman. Police said the Puerto Rican youth was involved in a stolen car incident and the Negro teenager was fleeing from the scene of a supermarket robbery. Neither youth was hurt seriously.

Dance Interrupted

Near the United Nations Sunday, 18 young men and women, many in the second day of a hunger strike, led a parade of 750 Greek-Americans protesting

Klein Backs Kennedy for Senate Post

Ulster County Democratic Chairman Aaron E. Kline formally released today his endorsement of Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy as Democratic candidate for U.S. Senator from New York.

Kennedy himself met with Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City today in a conference which the Associated Press says bore all the earmarks of a prelude to formal announcement that the Attorney General will run for the Senate.

In backing Kennedy, Klein stated that he is unconcerned with the issue that Kennedy is not a citizen of New York State. (Continued on Page 17, Col. 1)

Reuther Claims Counter-Offers Won't Be Fair

DETROIT (AP) — With President Walter P. Reuther of the United Auto Workers Union already predicting they "will not be realistic," the auto industry's Big Three planned to present their counter-offers for new labor contracts today.

General Motors, Ford and Chrysler kept their proposals secret in advance of their presentation to the UAW.

Reuther's advance prediction that they "will not be realistic" was in anticipation that the counter-offer would not match the union's broad demands for higher wages, larger pensions, earlier retirement and other gains.

While not putting a dollars-and-cents cost on the union's widespread demands, all three automakers have termed them unreasonable.

Fantastic Profits

In a speech at Cleveland Friday night, Reuther said the union has a $65-million strike fund "and we'll spend it all and borrow more, if necessary to win a fair share" of what he termed

Ford Offer Sets 3.34 Hr. Wage Chrysler and GM Also Make Offer

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. today offered its 165,000 production workers a broad new contract calling for overall average hourly wage increases of 19 cents over the next three years along with improvements in pension and health insurance plans.

In addition to the 19-cent increase, which would bring Ford's average hourly wage to $3.34 an hour, Ford also offered to transfer an additional 9 cents of its present cost-of-living allowance to basic wage scales.

7 Weeks of Bargaining

The 23-page proposal was handed to the United Automobile Workers Union as the eighth week of bargaining began on a replacement for a contract which runs out Aug. 31.

There was no immediate comment from UAW leaders, pending a study of the Ford proposals.

Earlier, General Motors offered its 350,000 employees covered by the current UAW contract annual wage increases ranging from 6 to 13 cents an hour, increased vacation and holiday pay and a tuition-free educational opportunity.

Chrysler Near Same

Chrysler Corp. presented a proposed contract substantially paralleling offers made by GM and Ford.

Union negotiators asked for a 15-to-20-minute recess to study the proposals.

GM Increases

The GM proposals also call for increased retirement benefits—including an early retirement incentive—widows' benefits and company-paid improved group insurance.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther predicted in advance of the GM announcement that the automotive Big Three's proposals "will not be realistic."

Fair to Open On Wednesday For Two Days

The 1964 Ulster County Fair at Forsyth Park will open officially at 10 a. m. Wednesday and remain open to 10 p. m. that day. It continues on Thursday and closes at 5 p. m.

Most of the judging will take place on Wednesday. Because of the lack of stables, the horses will be on the grounds only on Thursday when the horse show takes place. The 4-H Club horse entries will be judged in the morning with the open classes starting at noon.

Officials invite everyone to visit the only fair and enjoy visiting the competitive, organization and commercial exhibits.

Negro Rioting Lasts 5 Hours at Chicago

DIXMOOR, Ill. (AP) — One thousand angry Negroes rioted for five hours Sunday night and early today before 200 shotgun carrying police restored order to this predominantly Negro suburb south of Chicago.

More than 50 persons—most of them white — were injured when Negroes stoned their autos. Twenty-five Negroes were arrested after the first racial outbreak this summer in the Chicago area.

Two Are Shot

Two persons were shot. Police said one was a Negro hit in the arm by a civilian sniper and the other was a white man who accidentally wounded himself in the hand.

Hundreds of police cordoned off the area and used police dogs to hold off crowds of white men.

Then, led by Sheriff Richard Ogilvie of Cook County, 40 policemen walking with rifles and six squad cars of police restored order by moving into the heart of the riot area.

Warning by Sheriff

Before police moved in, Ogilvie instructed them: "If anyone shoots, we're shooting back."

Earlier, the crackle of small arms had been heard in the area.

But the squad maneuvered across the riot scene without further shooting from either side.

"It was tense, real tense," said Lt. Mervin Horsmann of the sheriff's police.

Horsmann said Negroes in what he termed the middle class neighborhood lined the streets and jeered: "Gestapo. Gestapo." But no violence occurred.

The only looting was in a liquor store where the rioting was touched off. Rioters also set fire to an abandoned building.

390 Go to Hospital

At least 39 persons required hospital care and four of them were hospitalized in good condition.

Seven of the injured were under 10 years old, including a 7-week-old infant.

At the height of the rioting, police blocked the six block area where about 20 autos were stoned. Tear gas bombs were used to break up the mobs.

"There was terrific violence in those streets," Horsmann said. (Continued on Page 17, Col. 3)

Senate Is To Return August 31

Recess Necessary For Coming Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Majority Leader Mike Mansfield called Democratic senators into conference today to announce abandonment of hope for a windup of the 1964 Congress session before next week's Democratic National Convention.

Mansfield told reporters in advance of the meeting he would alert his colleagues that the Senate would reconvene Aug. 31, after recessing for the convention, and that it then would "remain in session until we finish what we have to do."

He said that could mean that the session would last "well into September, and if it's necessary to go into October we'll do it."

Last Hope Fades

Mansfield said the filibuster fight being waged by a group of Senate liberals against a move by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois to delay court-ordered reapportionment of state legislatures has eliminated the last hope of adjourning Congress by Saturday.

Earlier, Mansfield had spoken of a "long shot chance" that something might be worked out, but he eliminated this hope in his later statement.

Still After Solution

Congressional leaders still are seeking a solution to the deadlock over Dirksen's apportionment-delaying proposal and Dirksen says he intends to get a vote on it no matter how long it takes. Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., one of the opponents, says the fight will last "until we win."

Dirksen is seeking a two-year delay to permit Congress and the states to act on a constitutional amendment that would undo the Supreme Court's ruling that districts for both houses of state legislatures must be "substantially equal" in population. Sparsely settled rural districts now control many legislatures.

Early Fire Does Million Damage At Thruway Inn

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—An early morning fire caused damage estimated at more than a million dollars and forced about 50 persons to flee today from the Thruway Motor Inn.

Two firemen, Battalion Chief John Martin and Robert Yowell, were injured. They were treated at a hospital and discharged.

Neil Hellman, head of Neil Hellman Associates, operators of the motel, estimated the loss.

High winds fanned the flames and it took several hours for firemen to gain control of the stubborn blaze.

An employee of the motel on Albany's western, if necessary, it appeared that the fire started behind a kitchen broiler.

Stratton Wants Senate Job As Kennedy Support Grows

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. Samuel S. Stratton of upstate Amsterdam has formally announced for Democratic nomination to the U.S. Senate amid more declarations of support for Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy for the nomination.

Kennedy is reported to have the backing of party leaders in counties which have well over a majority of the 1,144 votes in the Democratic state convention here Sept. 1.

Stratton said in his announcement Sunday that nominating Kennedy would give the Republicans a "million-dollar issue" for the campaign.

This was a reference to the fact that Kennedy lives in Virginia and maintains a voting residence in his native Massachusetts. Supporters of Kennedy say that, under the U.S. Consti-

Barry on Right Track by Modifying Issues, Says Dirksen; Javits Waiting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said today he believes Barry Goldwater has put his presidential campaign "on the main track" by modifying his position on major issues.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., agreed that Sen. Goldwater "has given himself a much better billing for the campaign."

But Javits said in a separate interview Goldwater "now has to travel the route" to show that he really means to reject extremism, push civil rights and work for world peace.

Speaking for the small band of Republicans who still have not agreed to campaign for the national ticket, Javits said: "We are while we observe how he travels the route. We welcome the changes in words and intentions. Now let's see about the performance."

Dirksen, who put Goldwater's name in nomination at the San Francisco convention despite their differences over civil rights legislation, said reaction from across the country indicates the Arizonaan satisfied most elements of the party with the statements he made last week at a GOP leadership conference in Hershey, Pa.

"Sen. Goldwater has bettered his chances for election," Dirksen said.

Democratic big guns, led by President Johnson, fired blasts at the Republican candidate over the weekend.

Johnson told a news conference Saturday that Goldwater has done "a disservice to our national security. A disservice to peace, and for that matter, a disservice to the entire free world" by saying the President seemed to authorize the use of nuclear weapons in his orders for retaliation against North Viet Nam.

By name Johnson accused both Goldwater and the GOP vice presidential nominee, Rep. William E. Miller of New York, of making loose charges. The President said he had specified "conventional weapons only" in his orders.

The Goldwater camp fired back immediately with a statement that "now perhaps the President will attempt to explain whether his advance warning to the Communists enabled them to alert the anti-aircraft defense which shot down two U.S. planes, resulting in the death of one pilot and the capture of another."

This was a reference to John-

Democratic big guns, led by President Johnson, fired blasts at the Republican candidate over the weekend.

Johnson told a news conference Saturday that Goldwater has done "a disservice to our national security. A disservice to peace, and for that matter, a disservice to the entire free world" by saying the President seemed to authorize the use of nuclear weapons in his orders for retaliation against North Viet Nam.

By name Johnson accused both Goldwater and the GOP vice presidential nominee, Rep. William E. Miller of New York, of making loose charges. The President said he had specified "conventional weapons only" in his orders.

The Goldwater camp fired back immediately with a statement that "now perhaps the President will attempt to explain whether his advance warning to the Communists enabled them to alert the anti-aircraft defense which shot down two U.S. planes, resulting in the death of one pilot and the capture of another."

This was a reference to Johnson's reference to John-

Keaton's Art Still Flourishes

By BOB THOMAS
 AP Movie-Television Writer
 HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I could retire mighty easy," says classic comedian Buster Keaton. But his public — or maybe it's Keaton — won't let him.

Buster bought a retirement home in the San Fernando Valley with the proceeds from his film biography, but he sees less of it than he'd like. The reason: The revival of the Keaton art continues to flourish.

His silent features, with nothing added but a musical score, have been drawing crowds in Europe. Buster owns 10 of the old comedies, plus numerous shorts, and plans to release them abroad and in this country.

He's busy with new films, too. He just returned from New York where he starred in an avant garde movie for Samuel Beckett, "Waiting for Godot."

Now Old Frodo has stuck

a feather in his pork-pie hat and is playing Chief Rotten Eagle in "Palama Party," a new concoction from the makers of the beach-party pictures.

Another recent assignment: working up comedy routines for the Ice Follies.

"I tried to convince the boys to be comedians first and skaters second, but I failed," Buster sighed.

And he has made a lucrative sideline of television commercials. While in New York he appeared in a Keystone Cop sequence for Ford trucks and he has huckstered for headache remedies and other products.

His next assignment sounds like a dream. He will star in a 16-minute short for Canadian National Railways to extol the joys of railroad travel through Canada.

New York City is the financial center of the world. Its six largest commercial banks have total deposits of $40,000,000,000. These institutions do a gigantic domestic and a large foreign business.

There is no civilized community in the universe where the influence of these great banks is not felt. All of them are constantly broadening and deepening their international business.

At the present time, the combined loan and discount items are more than $23,750,000,000. Business enterprises and large corporations, whose financial needs run into millions of dollars for temporary loans, get the credit they need.

The government bond accounts of these six banks is presently more than $5,000,000,000. When corporate borrowings are limited, the government bond account increase, and vice versa.

The names of these six banks, listed alphabetically, are: Bankers Trust, Chase Manhattan, Chemical New York Trust, First National City, Manufacturers Hanover and Morgan Guaranty.

Morgan Guaranty is a "whole-sale" bank, carrying accounts with 96 of the top 100 corporations in America. Since I was once an employee there, it is my favorite.

Each of its larger rivals has more than 500,000 customers. Morgan Guaranty has less than one-sixteenth of that number.

The ten shares of Morgan Guaranty that I bought years ago for $900 have been split up five for one, and there have been numerous stock dividends. As a result, that original investment today is worth $15,000!

Bank stocks lack popularity. That shouldn't be. Investment dealers have not done a good job of merchandising them. They are high quality equities and every well-diversified portfolio should carry some of them.

Billion of dollars of deposits carried by these six institutions are demanding deposits. Under existing laws, these deposits earn no interest. As a result, the huge loan and discount accounts amounting to 23 1/2 billions of dollars represent earning assets, part of which are free to the banks.

It is like a merchant selling goods costing nothing. Few investors in America fully appreciate this fact.

Bank stocks are owned by the best informed and richest investors in America. Morgan Guaranty, for instance, is owned by about 40,000 stockholders. The average holding of individual investors is worth about $25,000. This should not be.

In 1962, a thrifty $100-a-week stenographer took $1,000 of her savings and bought ten shares of Morgan Guaranty. In 1963, she received a 10 per cent stock dividend. Her eleven shares today are worth about $1,300 and she is receiving $44 in cash dividends.

To readers of this column all over America, I should like to suggest that anyone with a thousand or a million dollars to invest, that they look into the New York City banking situation.

All of these six bank stocks are prime equities and as our country and the world grow, these shares will become enhanced in value.

New York City bank stock dealers buy and sell these shares for their own account, making no commission charges.

Barry Won't Have Any SS Guardians During Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's no secret at the White House that President Johnson dislikes having the Secret Service shepherd him around.

And it's no secret that the Secret Service agents get very unhappy about Johnson's habit of mixing with crowds.

Now it appears that Sen. Barry Goldwater shares Johnson's attitude. At least, as the Republican presidential nominee, he's not asking for a guard.

"I never feel in any danger," Goldwater said last week. "I feel that when the Lord wants you, He's going to take you."

Started by Miller

Goldwater was replying to questions about a proposal by his vice presidential running mate, Rep. William E. Miller, that Goldwater be given Secret Service protection during the campaign.

Miller made his proposal when asked whether he saw a possibility of racial violence at campaign appearances by Goldwater. Miller said the possibility called for serious consideration.

The question of protection for presidential nominees had come up earlier, a few days after Goldwater's nomination.

Mostly Crackpots

He said then: "If a fellow wants to assassinate somebody, he can do it. I get one or two threats a week. I think they're mostly crackpots."

The Secret Service now begins protection of the president-elect just as soon as it becomes apparent who he's going to be. Agents wait in the wings of both candidates' headquarters on election night.

A bill that would authorize the Secret Service to protect major party nominees for both president and vice president was introduced in the House last week by a Republican congressman, Rep. Charles E. Goodell of New York.

Loser Helped Too

The protection would extend from the moment of nomination until the election, with additional protection for the defeated presidential candidate for "a reasonable time" if he requested it.

Only in 1962, did Congress require Secret Service protection for the vice president — and this was over the objection of the vice president at the time — Lyndon B. Johnson. Prior to 1962, vice presidents could request protection.

In 1963, Johnson was represented as wanting Congress to repeal the vice presidential protection. "I have that from his own lips," Rep. J. Vaughn Gary, D-Va., said.

LBJ Was Shielded

When President John F. Kennedy was killed by rifle shots last November as he rode through Dallas in a motorcade, Johnson was with him — and a Secret Service agent threw himself on top of Johnson to shield him.

Still, Johnson is restive about always being under guard.

If Allen Dulles has his way, presidents will be more tightly guarded than ever. Dulles' views are given weight because he is a former head of the Central Intelligence Agency and is a member of the Warren Commission investigating the Kennedy assassination.

The commission report is expected about mid-September. When Johnson and Goldwater read it, they may be swayed by the expected recommendations for presidential submission to better protection.

"If the people want this," Dulles predicted, "the President is going to do it."

Egyptian Cats

Egyptians first domesticated the cat about 150 B.C., but it was proclaimed a sacred animal by them as far back as 2500 B.C., and they even had a cat-headed goddess named Bast, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Hecht Will Not Support Kennedy In Senate Race

Albert L. Hecht, Poughkeepsie attorney and chairman of the Dutchess County Democratic Committee, made known Saturday night he will not support Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy for nomination as U. S. Senator from New York State.

"I have the greatest admiration and respect for the Attorney General," Hecht said, "but the simple fact is that he is not a resident of New York State and for this reason I cannot support his candidacy."

Hecht noted emphatically that he had not consulted other Democratic committee officers or delegates in the county. "I have no desire to bind anyone other than myself by this statement," the county chairman said.

In commenting on Atty. Gen. Kennedy, Hecht said, "were he a resident of New York State I would have no hesitancy in wholeheartedly supporting his candidacy. He has all the attributes, all of the qualifications to serve as a senator with distinction and honor."

Sets Precedent

Hecht said that in his opinion, the nomination of Kennedy would open the door for any party, in the future, to cast about the United States for persons of fame and renown who could be spotted in any state as candidate for senator where the prospects of victory seemed good.

"I do not believe this would be good for the country and I do not believe this is what the people of the United States desire," Hecht told newsmen.

Hecht was the planner and leader of the Democratic party which upset the Republicans last fall and gave the Democrats control of the Board of Supervisors for the first time in more than 50 years.

Held in Boston To Face Charges For Area Robbery

Accused of robbing a Dutchess County service station employee on July 20, three Massachusetts men are in custody in Boston, awaiting extradition to face charges.

BCI Investigator John Conway of South Millbrook, identified the trio as, Bernard McKay, 40, and Arthur Smith, 39, both of Boston, and Ross Sage, 30, South Weymouth.

Troopers said the three men allegedly robbed an employee at

Quarryville Man Promoted by IBM

The promotion of Gerald H. Overbach of Quarryville to senior technical assistant in quality control administration has been announced by Richard J. Whalen, general manager of the IBM Data Systems Division plant in Kingston.

Overbach joined IBM in May, 1952, as a parts inspector at the Poughkeepsie plant. He was named a quality analyst in 1953 and transferred to early SAGE computer development at the Kingston plant in early 1955. He was promoted to department technician in quality control in April, 1955 and to technical assistant three months later. In early 1957, he was promoted to electrical components receiving inspection manager, and in mid-1957 to manufacturing quality control manager. Overbach became a staff assistant in quality control administration in 1958, and a senior staff assistant in that area in late 1961, a post he has held until his present promotion.

He is a graduate of Saugerties High School and Mt. Herman School. He attended Bucknell University.

Overbach is president of the Quarryville Civic Association, former vice-president of the Rip Van Winkle Council of the Boy Scouts of America and past chairman of the Mid-Hudson Section of the American Society for Quality Control.

He and his wife Myrtle reside in Quarryville.

Post Bail at $65 For Boy Accused Of 5 Violations

Accused of speeding and passing four red traffic lights, David Beers, 19, of Catskill, was scheduled to appear today before City Judge Harold S. Lieberman at Hudson. He was freed in $65 bail.

Police said a car driven by the youth struck a vehicle on Allen Street in Hudson Friday night, and continued on without stopping. The car was later found abandoned. Police charged that Beers drove through four red lights at a fast speed and returned to Catskill to report his car stolen.

Beers pleaded innocent before

Body of Boy, 14, Is Recovered From River

HUDSON FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — A five-day search ended Sunday when police recovered the body of David Orlich, 14, of Hudson Falls, from the Hudson River.

The youth disappeared Wednesday while swimming. Two Hudson Falls patrolmen spotted the body lodged against the gates at a Niagara-Mohawk Corp. power plant across the river from this Washington County community.

Young Orlich was last seen by two other boys with whom he went swimming after a fishing excursion.

They told police they saw the boy carried away in the rapid current.

Sheriff's men, state and local police had been searching for the body.

When President John F. Kennedy was killed by rifle shots last November as he rode through Dallas in a motorcade, Johnson was with him — and a Secret Service agent threw himself on top of Johnson to shield him.

Still, Johnson is restive about always being under guard.

If Allen Dulles has his way, presidents will be more tightly guarded than ever. Dulles' views are given weight because he is a former head of the Central Intelligence Agency and is a member of the Warren Commission investigating the Kennedy assassination.

The commission report is expected about mid-September. When Johnson and Goldwater read it, they may be swayed by the expected recommendations for presidential submission to better protection.

"If the people want this," Dulles predicted, "the President is going to do it."

Hecht Will Not Support Kennedy In Senate Race

Albert L. Hecht, Poughkeepsie attorney and chairman of the Dutchess County Democratic Committee, made known Saturday night he will not support Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy for nomination as U. S. Senator from New York State.

"I have the greatest admiration and respect for the Attorney General," Hecht said, "but the simple fact is that he is not a resident of New York State and for this reason I cannot support his candidacy."

Hecht noted emphatically that he had not consulted other Democratic committee officers or delegates in the county. "I have no desire to bind anyone other than myself by this statement," the county chairman said.

In commenting on Atty. Gen. Kennedy, Hecht said, "were he a resident of New York State I would have no hesitancy in wholeheartedly supporting his candidacy. He has all the attributes, all of the qualifications to serve as a senator with distinction and honor."

Sets Precedent

Hecht said, that in his opinion, the nomination of Kennedy would open the door for any party, in the future, to cast about the United States for persons of fame and renown who could be spotted in any state as candidate for senator where the prospects of victory seemed good.

"I do not believe this would be good for the country and I do not believe this is what the people of the United States desire," Hecht told newsmen.

Hecht was the planner and leader of the Democratic party which upset the Republicans last fall and gave the Democrats control of the Board of Supervisors for the first time in more than 50 years.

Held in Boston To Face Charges For Area Robbery

Accused of robbing a Dutchess County service station employee on July 20, three Massachusetts men are in custody in Boston, awaiting extradition to face charges.

BCI Investigator John Conway of South Millbrook, identified the trio as, Bernard McKay, 40, and Arthur Smith, 39, both of Boston, and Ross Sage, 30, South Weymouth.

Troopers said the three men allegedly robbed an employee at

GERALD H. OVERBACH

Quarryville Man Promoted by IBM

The promotion of Gerald H. Overbach of Quarryville to senior technical assistant in quality control administration has been announced by Richard J. Whalen, general manager of the IBM Data Systems Division plant in Kingston.

Overbach joined IBM in May, 1952, as a parts inspector at the Poughkeepsie plant. He was named a quality analyst in 1953 and transferred to early SAGE computer development at the Kingston plant in early 1955. He was promoted to department technician in quality control in April, 1955 and to technical assistant three months later. In early 1957, he was promoted to electrical components receiving inspection manager, and in mid-1957 to manufacturing quality control manager. Overbach became a staff assistant in quality control administration in 1958, and a senior staff assistant in that area in late 1961, a post he has held until his present promotion.

He is a graduate of Saugerties High School and Mt. Herman School. He attended Bucknell University.

Overbach is president of the Quarryville Civic Association, former vice-president of the Rip Van Winkle Council of the Boy Scouts of America and past chairman of the Mid-Hudson Section of the American Society for Quality Control.

He and his wife Myrtle reside in Quarryville.

Post Bail at $65 For Boy Accused Of 5 Violations

Accused of speeding and passing four red traffic lights, David Beers, 19, of Catskill, was scheduled to appear today before City Judge Harold S. Lieberman at Hudson. He was freed in $65 bail.

Police said a car driven by the youth struck a vehicle on Allen Street in Hudson Friday night, and continued on without stopping. The car was later found abandoned. Police charged that Beers drove through four red lights at a fast speed and returned to Catskill to report his car stolen.

Beers pleaded innocent before

Body of Boy, 14, Is Recovered From River

HUDSON FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — A five-day search ended Sunday when police recovered the body of David Orlich, 14, of Hudson Falls, from the Hudson River.

The youth disappeared Wednesday while swimming.

Two Hudson Falls patrolmen spotted the body lodged against the gates at a Niagara-Mohawk Corp. power plant across the river from this Washington County community.

Young Orlich was last seen by two other boys with whom he went swimming after a fishing excursion.

They told police they saw the boy carried away in the rapid current.

'EXTREME' VS. 'EXTREMISM'

A considerable amount of heat is still being generated over Barry Goldwater's remark that "extremism in the defense of liberty is no vice." It is unlikely that the matter will cool off between now and November 3.

The other day, Senator Goldwater humorously gave what will probably be only one of many explanations of what he meant.

"I love my wife in an extreme way," he said. He still loved extremely, he said (to the delight of reporters), even at his age.

And in his letter to Richard Nixon, written at the latter's request to "clear the air once and for all," Goldwater phrased his thought in slightly different form: "Wholehearted devotion to liberty is unassailable and half-hearted devotion to justice is indefensible."

This, he made clear, "would not countenance illegal or improper means to achieve proper goals."

There should now be no doubt about what Barry Goldwater means by "extremism." Attempts by his opponents to use the original statement made during his nomination acceptance speech at San Francisco as proof that he is a rabid fanatic may rebound to their disadvantage.

Such statements are, of course, dangerous because they are capable of being interpreted in different ways by different people. Although the Republican candidate could not have intended to influence real extremists, he no doubt now wishes he had chosen more precise words. In fact, his letter to Nixon indicates as much.

The point on which the whole thing turns is the difference between "extreme" on the one hand and "extremism" or "extremist" on the other. The question is whether, in a particular situation, a given response, is warranted by a given challenge or stimulus.

Homicide is, of course, an extreme action, but it is not extremist if it is necessary to save one's own life. It would be extremist, though, if the action which preceded it was merely a verbal insult.

It has been argued that the patriots were extremists when they threw British tea into Boston Harbor. They were not; they reacted in an effective and adequate way to an unfair British tax, which was soon repealed. But had they ambushed and murdered the tax collector, then they would have been extremists.

Senator Goldwater has said that Dwight Eisenhower was practicing extremism when he invaded Europe in World War II. While the Allied invasion was an extreme effort requiring extreme sacrifice, it certainly was not an excessive response to the danger of fascism. But had Eisenhower ordered that no German soldiers be taken alive, then he would have been an extremist.

More recently, our bombing of North Vietnamese naval bases was not extremism but an adequate and effective reaction to the action the North Vietnamese took in attacking our ships in international waters.

Generalizations and blanket charges will fly thick and fast from both sides during the coming election campaign. It will not always be easy to think one's way through them.

Is murder an adequate or is it an excessive answer to attempts to implement the civil rights law?

Is rioting in the streets by a minority group a reaction justified by their grievances, or is it extremism?

Is federal intervention in the national economy or in our personal lives so many ways extremist, or are these instances necessary and appropriate responses to the problems of an industrial society?

Is opposition to any and all agreements with the Communists justified by the threat they pose to freedom, or is it a form of extremism?

These are the questions—some of them—posed by those few words of convention oratory.

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
BIG AND SMALL PIECES
ON THE ASIAN CHESSBOARD

The really menacing thing about the situation in Southeast Asia is that it involves three-way brinkmanship and so increases the imponderables that affect judgment. Not only do we have Mao Tse-tung trying to guess what is in Lyndon Johnson's mind, and vice versa, but we have both Mao and Johnson trying to figure what Nikita Khrushchev would do in case of escalation of the war over South Vietnam.

Since Mao and Khrushchev are both playing for the leadership of world Communism, it could figure in the minds of the psycho-politicians of Peiping that if Red China were to pick a war with the United States in North Vietnam, Khrushchev would have to side with the Red Chinese just to prove his own revolutionary integrity. Should full-scale atomic war develop between the United States on one side and a renewed Soviet-Red Chinese alliance on the other, Mao could count on Russia and America wiping each other out. Red China, with its huge agrarian decentralization and its 800 million people, would survive to pick up the pieces even if it took tremendous losses.

The question is whether Khrushchev is sufficiently stupid to be bluffed into Mao Tse-tung's trap. He could be if he were enough of a committed ideologue to refuse any temporary loss of face that would be involved in staying aloof from a U. S.-Red Chinese confrontation. During forty years of infighting to stay alive and become the top Communist in Russia, however, Khrushchev has demonstrated his pragmatic adaptability over and over again. If he remains true to his pattern, he would never risk the destruction of Soviet Russia for the rice paddies of Southeast Asia, which would never be used to feed Russians anyway.

In this gruesome game of keeping Mao Tse-tung from trying the big bluff on Khrushchev, the U. S. has some smaller, but still quite potent, pieces on the chessboard. We can thank our lucky stars that John Foster Dulles' policy prevailed when the clamor was on to force Chiang Kai-shek to surrender the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu in Formosa Strait. With these islands as potential stepping stones to the Chinese mainland, the Taiwan, or Formosa, Chinese remain a quite tangible threat on Mao Tse-tung's flank. The threat is being constantly brought home to Mao by guerrilla raids from Formosa that seldom make the front pages of Western newspapers. For example, on the night of June 20 a guerrilla unit from Formosa raided a Red Chinese strong-point at Shanmen in Kwangtung province, a hundred miles to the north of Hong Kong. The raid was a pinprick in itself, for only some twenty Communist soldiers were killed. But the raiders returned to their own Formosa base without trouble, bringing with them three Red militiamen who chose to defect.

This sort of thing must cause Mao Tse-tung to stay awake nights when he is mulling over the feasibility of committing full Red Chinese power to a war over the two Vietnams and Laos. The numbers involved in commando raids from Formosa cannot be large when they have to be landed from rowboats. But if the U. S. were to give Chiang Kai-shek plenty of landing craft, plus the conveying protection of the Seventh Fleet, raids could seriously interfere with the movement of Red Chinese armies to the south. Mao's worries must be further complicated by the fact that Formosa-raiding parties are conducted with the cooperation of mainland villagers and even local Red militiamen, who have handed over their spears and daggers to the invaders. The stories of mainland cooperation might be discounted as Formosa-inspired propaganda if it were not for the fact that Fang Ho-tai, one of the defecting militiamen brought back from Kwangtung province, had not told newspaper interviewers about the hateful fatigue of life on the China coast, a matter of "fishing in the morning, tilling the farm in the afternoon, and guarding against guerrilla raids in the evening."

Chiang Kai-shek's big army on Formosa has been a purely defensive force for more than 15 years. But in the event of an escalated war in the Far East, it could be transformed into a powerful offensive weapon in a few weeks. Our long-standing policy of support for Chiang could be the crucial factor in restraining Mao Tse-tung in future weeks. We should remember this in gratitude the next time the issue of welcoming the Red Chinese to the UN is raised.

THE WELL CHILD

Babies Need Their Sleep,
But So Do Their Parents

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Adults rarely sleep around the clock, but a newborn infant will normally sleep about 22 hours a day.

By the time he reaches the age of 2 months he may sleep 20 hours. At 4 months, sleep will be 18 hours. At one year the average baby will sleep 14 to 16 hours.

If your year-old baby sleeps less than this but appears to be happy when he is awake, there is no need for concern. If he sleeps more than this average but on waking is alert and interested in his surroundings, there is no need to worry.

When a child of 12 or 14 months habitually wakes up in the middle of the night and cries without apparent cause, his parents may attribute this to painful teething. But if the crying usually stops as soon as the child is picked up, it proves that pain has nothing to do with it.

At 1 year, your baby is not too young to learn that he must respect the comfort of others and make his own contribution to a peaceful family life, but he will not learn this valuable lesson unless you teach him gently but firmly.

Babies and toddlers are naturally light sleepers so don't expect them to go into a real deep sleep until they are 4 to 5 years old. At this age they are capable of wearing themselves out physically. Once asleep, it is almost impossible to arouse them.

Between 2 and 5 many children develop night terrors. Sometimes these are relieved by giving the child a very light evening meal. In others a small feeding that is high in sugar content and given just before bed will stop the attacks. In a few youngsters they are not stopped until the tonsils and adenoids are removed. For this reason the child who has frequent night terrors should have a thorough checkup before the attacks have caused loss of weight and a fear of going to bed.

A 5-year-old child is not too young to learn to take these attacks to obtain extra attention. A good test is gently to try to open his eyelids. If he is truly asleep this can be done easily, but if the child resists such a maneuver, he is faking.

HERE'S CORK IN YOUR EYE

West German medical bulletin reports an increasing number of patients coming to the Berlin Clinic with eye injuries. The cause: prosperity.

It seems that people in the Bundesrepublik are getting smacked right and left with corks from champagne bottles, which are discharged with a force of 60 pounds per square inch, four times normal atmospheric pressure.

The rise in eye injuries corresponds exactly with an increase in the consumption of champagne — from two million bottles in 1952 to 70 million in 1960.

A new class of society has grown up, inexperienced in the technique of opening bottles, the bulletin explains.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — "A year ago all the Viet Cong we hit had home-made weapons.

Czech, Chinese and Russian machine guns, recoilless rifles, mortars, even the infantryman's individual weapons.

"We know it's coming across the border from Cambodia—brought there down the Ho Chi

Minh trail from the North. But we don't have the men or the firepower here to stop them from bringing it in. They're building up a considerable amount of power here for when they want

THE SPEAKER IS AN American officer talking to me on the Cambodian border. This officer regularly patrols with a Vietnamese Ranger battalion. He's a hero to his Vietnamese Rangers.

They're a "Tiger" unit, raring to fight.

When I talked to these men

they were just in from a patrol, drinking roisterously and ready for more action. They frightened the girls they were with by playing games with a live hand grenade.

But back to the American

Ranger officer: "Maybe it's like they say—the Reds aren't bringing heavy tonnage down the Ho

Chi Minh trail. But they're sure hitting us with a lot of new weapons and their firepower is going up sharply. From where sit we've got to shut that trail off. Otherwise they can do us a lot of damage."

The Viet Cong already move through much of this area at will.

So the American officer and the officers and men of the Vietnamese battalion he works with were delighted when word

in North Viet Nam.

They hope the United States is ready to take the steps necessary to put a halt to the flow of arms, equipment and troops coming down from the North.

The Vietnamese Ranger battalion commander exclaimed:

"Let's have a drink, because now the war begins."

HE AND HIS MEN ARE

TIRED of the "half war," where you chase an enemy you never see and you're hit by an enemy you can't find.

The kind of fighting the Vietnamese and Americans have been doing gets to seem sort of useless to the man on patrol.

The enemy dishes it out from one safe haven in the North and another in Cambodia. The enemy in South Viet Nam kills from ambush. Though he's a poor shot, he still inflicts sizeable casualties.

Some officers estimate they're losing 5 to 10 men for every

Viet Cong they get.

I talked to officers in some regions on my recent tour who've been out on patrol for six months, have suffered heavy casualties, yet never have seen a live Viet Cong in battle.

You can't tell whether you're hitting the Communists or not.

They carry their dead and wounded away with them.

ALL THE U. S. ADVISERS

AND VIETNAMESE SOLDIERS

I talked to are tired, too, of being on the defensive. As one officer puts it, "You've got to feel you're getting back at the guy who's hitting you."

So the idea that we're at last hitting back gives a lift to the

As one rugged Vietnamese

be No. 1 Tigers." An American

Ranger officer said the same thing in a different way: "I feel more gung ho."

But for this feeling to catch fire and hold, the men I've been with say the U. S. and Vietnamese governments are going to have to come up with a continuously aggressive policy.

By the time he reaches the age of 2 months he may sleep 20 hours. At 4 months, 16 to 18 hours. At one year the average baby will sleep 14 to 16 hours.

If your year-old baby sleeps less than this but appears to be happy when he is awake, there is no need for concern. If he sleeps more than this average but on waking is alert and interested in his surroundings, there is no need to worry.

When a child of 12 or 14 months habitually wakes up in the middle of the night and cries without apparent cause, his parents may attribute this to painful teething. But if the crying usually stops as soon as the child is picked up, it proves that pain has nothing to do with it.

At 1 year, your baby is not too young to learn that he must respect the comfort of others and make his own contribution to a peaceful family life, but he will not learn this valuable lesson unless you teach him gently but firmly.

Babies and toddlers are naturally light sleepers so don't expect them to go into a real deep sleep until they are 4 to 5 years old. At this age they are capable of wearing themselves out physically. Once asleep, it is almost impossible to arouse them.

Between 2 and 5 many children develop night terrors. Sometimes these are relieved by giving the child a very light evening meal. In others a small feeding that is high in sugar content and given just before bed will stop the attacks. In a few youngsters they are not stopped until the tonsils and adenoids are removed. For this reason the child who has frequent night terrors should have a thorough checkup before the attacks have caused loss of weight and a fear of going to bed.

A 5-year-old child is not too young to learn to take these attacks to obtain extra attention. A good test is gently to try to open his eyelids. If he is truly asleep this can be done easily but if the child resists such a maneuver, he is faking.

HERE'S CORK IN YOUR EYE

West German medical bulletin reports an increasing number of patients coming to the Berlin Clinic with eye injuries. The cause: prosperity.

It seems that people in the Bundesrepublik are getting smacked right and left with corks from champagne bottles, which are discharged with a force of 60 pounds per square inch, four times normal atmospheric pressure.

The rise in eye injuries corresponds exactly with an increase in the consumption of champagne — from two million bottles in 1952 to 70 million in 1960.

A new class of society has grown up, inexperienced in the technique of opening bottles, the bulletin explains.

Washington News

BY RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — "A year ago all the Viet Cong we hit had home-made weapons. Now they're using new stuff—Czech, Chinese and Russian machine guns, recoilless rifles, mortars, even the infantryman's individual weapons."

"We know it's coming across the border from Cambodia — brought there down the Ho Chi Minh trail from the North. But we don't have the men or the firepower here to stop them from bringing it in. They're building up a considerable amount of power here for when they want to use it."

THE SPEAKER IS AN American officer talking to me on the Cambodian border. This officer regularly patrols with a Vietnamese Ranger battalion. He's a hero to his Vietnamese Rangers. They're a "Tiger" unit, raring to fight.

When I talked to these men they were just in from a patrol, drinking roisterously and ready for more action. They frightened the girls they were with by playing games with a live hand grenade.

But back to the American Ranger officer: "Maybe it's like they say—the Reds aren't bringing heavy tonnage down the Ho Chi Minh trail. But they're sure hitting us with a lot of new weapons and their firepower is going up sharply. From where I sit we've got to shut that trail off. Otherwise they can do us a lot of damage."

The Viet Cong already move through much of this area at will. So the American officer and the officers and men of the Vietnamese battalion he works with were delighted when word reached us of the U.S. bombings in North Viet Nam.

They hope the United States is ready to take the steps necessary to put a halt to the flow of arms, equipment and troops coming down from the North.

The Vietnamese Ranger battalion commander exclaimed: "Let's have a drink, because now the war begins."

HE AND HIS MEN ARE TIRED of the "half war," where you chase an enemy you never see and you're hit by an enemy you can't find.

The kind of fighting the Vietnamese and Americans have been doing gets to seem sort of useless to the man on patrol. The enemy dishes it out from one safe haven in the North and another in Cambodia. The enemy in South Viet Nam kills from ambush. Though he's a poor shot, he still inflicts sizeable casualties.

Some officers estimate they're losing 5 to 10 men for every Viet Cong they get.

I talked to officers in some regions on my recent tour who've been out on patrol for six months, have suffered heavy casualties, yet never have seen a live Viet Cong in battle.

You can't tell whether you're hurting the Communists or not. They carry their dead and wounded away with them.

ALL THE U. S. ADVISERS AND VIETNAMESE SOLDIERS I talked to are tired, too, of being on the defensive. As one officer puts it, "You've got to feel you're getting back at the guy who's hitting you."

So the idea that we're at last hitting back gives a lift to the fighting men.

As one rugged Vietnamese

Ranger put it, "We're going to be No. 1 Tigers." An American Ranger officer said the same thing in a different way: "I feel more gung ho."

But for this feeling to catch fire and hold, the men I've been with say the U. S. and Vietnamese governments are going to have to come up with a continuously aggressive policy.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

The building was subdued and almost empty, thinking of its past. The halls were thick with old paint. A few light bulbs stared with jaundiced eye at what was left of glory. Five young girls—thin, fat, tall and small—lounged on their backs studying a television screen.

In a week, they will be Practical Nurses. They will begin to devote their lives to healing. It is an almost holy calling, and yet it required only one year of study to do it. There was nothing easy about the year these girls gave up. The dates were few; the classrooms were not too hot; the classrooms were not too noisy; the classrooms were not too boring.

One student has a sign over her bathroom door. "It is illegal and unlawful for more than 25 persons to occupy this bathroom." In an anatomy class, Mrs. Guterman was discussing the human stomach and asked a student to remove the plastic organ from an exhibit. The young nurse took it out in her hand, opened it, and a hamburger fell out.

Twenty per cent of all students will quit. They have family problems, or they have no true motivation to heal the sick, or a boyfriend tires of the east iron rules of behavior. Still, studying to become a P.N. is a bargain. Tuition is $50 a year; uniforms are cheap and good food at the cafeteria comes to less than $150 a year. A girl with $500 and a year to spare can carve an honorable life career.

The five girls walked down the hot halls to their rooms and I asked them if they had decided on a class motto. "Yes," the little one said. "Enter to Learn—Go Forth to Serve." Copyright, 1964, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

The pity is that so few of our girls want to spend a year to become P.N.'s. Most good nursing schools divide the curriculum into three parts: the first four months are spent studying the human body and medical terminology; the second four have days which are divided between working in the hospital, and studying at the nursing school; the third four months are spent (as much as ten hours a day) working in the hospital, getting practical experience.

The United States is full of good P.N. schools. Among the best are Sinai Hospital in Detroit, under Mrs. Ruth Edelson; Hospital for Joint Diseases in New York under Mrs. Justine Hannan; St. Mary's in Pierre, South Dakota under Sister Collette; Lemuel Shattuck Hospital in Jamaica Plain, Massachusetts, under Eleanor Gaffney; Mt. Sinai in Miami Beach under Mrs. Carmen Ross.

The five girls watched a little more television, and then went to their rooms. They said goodnight to Mrs. Pauline MacFarlane, the snow-haired house mother who checks them in at night, gives them passes to spend a weekend at home, and listens to their personal heartaches. It isn't admiration the girls feel for this woman; it's love.

Mrs. Mack was talking to Carmen Ross, who is supervisor of nursing at Mt. Sinai as well as director of the Nursing School. Mrs. Ross has great dark eyes, a flock of gray, and an expression which is half way between laughter and compassion. "Two years more," Mrs. Ross said, "and we'll have a new nursing home." Mrs. Mack bounced up off her heels. "Air

Using Nuclear Weapons—Who Should Decide?

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The most conspicuous example of a misunderstood issue in the political campaign today involves an implication that Sen. Goldwater wants the various military commanders in the field to be permitted to use all kinds of nuclear weapons at will. The Arizona, however, in all his statements has referred only to the use of tactical nuclear weapons abroad. He has repeatedly said that discretion to use these, in the event of an enemy attack, should be given, not to all field generals, but solely to the supreme commander of NATO forces in Europe, who is usually an American.

Administration spokesmen, on the other hand, insist that at all times the President alone should make the decision as to whether any sort of nuclear weapon is to be used, even in retaliation after an enemy attack. To get at the pros and cons of this military issue, Gen. Max S. Johnson, U. S. Army (ret.), who for many years was the head of the Army War College and is present military analyst for "U. S. News & World Report," has just made a special study. It is presented in a lengthy article in this week's issue of the magazine. Excerpts follow:

"The weapons involved are those developed in recent years for use in combat by the Army and the tactical Air Forces. Most of the Army weapons are equipped with relatively small nuclear warheads and have a relatively short range—usually a few miles. . . . These weapons are nuclear-age 'follow-ons' to older, traditional artillery, howitzers and larger mortars. Yet they all use nuclear ammunition. So their use, conceivably, could trigger a nuclear war, and lead into rapid escalation to general conditioned," she said. Once, back in the early 1920's, this had been the Nautilus Hotel, the alabaster jewel of Miami Beach. When World War II started, the Navy requisitioned it as a hospital and rehabilitation center. When the Navy took the boys in blue away, nobody knew what to do with the gallant old building.

Max Orovitz and some friends had an idea. They bought it and called it Mount Sinai Hospital. The founders were Jews. The patients in the beds were sick. Orovitz and his friends recruited good physicians, top surgeons. They charged the rich and gave care to the poor for nothing.

In time, a newer grander hospital was built a block away. Everything in it is automatic except health. Carmen Ross became part of a big team. She worked her way to the top. Her nursing school was established in the old Nautilus. Today, 60 girls enroll to become P.N.'s each year. There are 38 rooms on one floor, marked No Man's Land.

One student has a sign over her bathroom door. "It is illegal and unlawful for more than 25 persons to occupy this bathroom." In an anatomy class, Mrs. Guterman was discussing the human stomach and asked a student to remove the plastic organ from an exhibit. The young nurse took it out in her hand, opened it, and a hamburger fell out.

Still, studying to become a P.N. is a bargain. Tuition is $50 a year; uniforms are cheap and good food at the cafeteria comes to less than $150 a year. This is a controversy of grave importance to the safety of the Western world—far more realistic than might appear from the recent tendency to confine the issue solely to a question of impetuosity or restraint by an American President. Actually, what's more important is that the Western world should be able to respond instantly to any attack and thus, by making known the procedure to the whole world, emphasize not only the deterrent power of the West but its preparedness to use all weapons—including nuclear—against Communist attacks.

(Copyright, 1964, New York Herald Tribune Inc.)

"The problem would be of a different order, for example, if the Russians should launch a land assault on Western Europe supported only by tactical nuclear weapons, while holding off on the use of strategic weapons. It would be even more difficult if they should launch a conventional attack only, perhaps with an announcement that Red forces would not employ nuclear weapons as long as the West refrained from using them."

"At that point, if NATO's defending forces were unable to match the enemy in conventional strength, someone would have to make the decision whether to resort to nuclear weapons in an effort to stop the incursion, or else retreat or surrender. But what circumstance, when and where, would determine the decision? And by whom should this decision be made? By a military commander at some echelon or other? By the President? By some executive agent for NATO, charged with making that decision?"

"Against a conventional attack, U. S. Army tests in Europe indicate that would not be necessary to fire nuclear weapons within five minutes, to insure the integrity of NATO forces and of their key defensive positions."

"But a decision on whether to use tactical nuclear arms may very well have to be made within two hours. And since it may take a command upward of two hours to ready itself against the hazardous effects of its own nuclear weapons — let alone the enemy's response, this may well entail getting release to fire very shortly after an enemy attack starts."

"The further the local commander must go up the chain of command to get his release to fire, the more the safety of his command or his mission is in jeopardy, as a practical matter. 'Broad guidelines have been worked out by NATO for the employment of nuclear weapons. But these NATO rules leave much to be desired as to when the tactical weapons can and cannot be used. Right now, everyone wants as little uncertainty as possible—the civilians because they do not wholly trust the military, and the military because they want the responsibility to rest on the political leadership."

"Control of most of NATO's nuclear weapons by civilians back in Washington, on the other hand, involves a built-in time lag in making the decision—a lag that could be dangerous under some conditions, very hazardous in others."

"In addition, control from Washington is unsatisfactory to the rest of NATO. And yet, at present, it is the President of the U. S. who has the final say on the release of all tactical nuclear weapons in NATO, since they are U. S. weapons and our law requires their control by the President."

"This is a controversy of grave importance to the safety of the Western world—far more realistic than might appear from the recent tendency to confine the issue solely to a question of impetuosity or restraint by an American President. Actually, what's more important is that the Western world should be able to respond instantly to any attack and thus, by making known the procedure to the whole world, emphasize not only the deterrent power of the West but its preparedness to use all weapons—including nuclear—against Communist attacks."

Shandaken House Swept by Flames In Sunday Fire

A large frame residence on Route 42, Shandaken, was swept by flames late Sunday, as about 25 volunteer firemen from Phoenicia, Shandaken and Onteora fire districts worked to save other nearby buildings.

Fire Chief M. C. Jones of Phoenicia, said the house was owned by a New York City man identified as Nicholas Lucatano. The house was vacant at the time the fire was discovered.

Chief Jones reported the house was involved in fire when Shandaken firemen arrived at the scene. The other companies were dispatched to the scene through mutual aid. The chief said the burned building had eight or 10 rooms, and had been converted into a storage building.

The origin of the fire was not determined. Chief Jones commended the volunteer firemen from the three companies for their successful efforts in preventing the fire from spreading to other frame dwellings, some of which were reportedly 100 feet away from the burned structure, which was totally destroyed.

3 Are Accused Of Slashing Car Along Route 28

Accused of slashing a passing automobile as they rode along Route 28 in the Town of Shandaken, Sunday night, three youths were arrested later by Kingston State Police on charges of malicious mischief.

Troopers said the trio was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Amiel S. Hess, Town of Shandaken, and pleaded guilty. The defendants were listed as Ronald Newhouse, 17, West Sayville, and George Hamilton, also 17, of Sayville, who were each fined $50, and Arthur Edward Hindle, 22, also of Sayville, who was fined $25. In lieu of payment of the fines, the youths were ordered held in the county jail under the fines are paid.

According to a report of the arresting officer, Trooper Craig Bremer, the complaint was made by William Baessler of the Town of Shandaken. He told troopers he was driving on Route 28 when the car occupied by the youths passed and one of the trio using a machete cut his automobile.

Hearing Friday On Second Degree Assault Charge

Charged with second degree assault, Grady Cannon, 24, of 43 North Perry Street, Poughkeepsie, is slated for hearing Friday, August 21 before City Judge Milton Haven.

Cannon is accused of throwing lye into the face of James Edward Jones, 31, of 98 North Clinton Street, Poughkeepsie, after a quarrel, according to Detective John Scribner and Patrolman Anthony LaRocca.

Police Chief John L. Martin said Jones was treated for lye burns of the eyes and lips at Vassar Hospital. He was later released.

Cyprus Mediator Has Surgery for Clot on Brain

GENEVA (AP) — The condition of U.N. Cyprus mediator Sakari S. Tuomioja suddenly worsened and he underwent emergency surgery for a blood clot on the brain early today.

A United Nations communique on the 52-year-old Finnish diplomat said:

"The condition of Mr. Tuomioja had deteriorated in the course of the night. A surgical operation has been performed this morning by Prof. Aloys Werner. The doctors are very reluctant to make a prognosis."

Boat, Machines Are Rifled Over Weekend

A boat moored at Island Dock Marina and vending machines at the marina were reported rifled over the weekend.

Local police were notified this morning that two life jackets, a fire extinguisher, four tanks, a battery and anchor had been taken from the cabin cruiser of Charles Mackey, of New Paltz.

A report early Sunday afternoon noted the theft of an unknown amount of change from three vending machines. Police said candy, coffee and soda vending machines had been ripped open from top to bottom.

Truck Loses Load As Wheel Disengages

When the fifth wheel on a tractor-trailer broke on Route 209 about a mile south of Ellenville at 11:15 p. m. Sunday, the truck and tractor broke apart and the truck left the east bound lane of the highway and dumped the load of rolled steel in an open field.

The truck was being operated by Paul Barco, 28, of McKeesport, Pa., who escaped injury. The accident was investigated by state police from Ellenville.

Perry Mason To Keep Winning Cases This Year

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Perry Mason's" fans turned around and accidentally nipped star Raymond Burr recently. Mr. Burr was in no position to complain.

For the past three or four years, the actor has suggested about this time that it will be his final season. He is interested in other pursuits, he says, including his art galleries, motion pictures and a stage career. There follows a period of considerable excitement at CBS but ultimately comes the news that "Perry Mason" will continue for another season or so.

This year, however, Burr started grumbling in print ahead of his usual schedule. This led television innocents to believe that the summer re-runs from 1961 and 1962 shows were to be Perry's swan-song. They wrote in, declaring their undying affection.

For the first time in the seven-year history of the program, however, Burr's prediction of the end to the successful television career of Erle Stanley Gardner's most popular character may be accurate.

Gail Patrick Jackson, producer of the series and Gardner's partner in Paisano Productions, says: "I feel that Ray means it this year."

"This year" means, however, there will be the usual quota of new shows to run from September to April or May.

Burr's contract expires at the end of the 1964-65 season and CBS has made no move as yet to renew the series or star. This situation could change suddenly, should the venerable program — in its new, earlier time slot on Thursdays — nab a high audience rating.

"But as far as 'Perry Mason' is concerned, we're old-fashioned and I think our fans are," said Mrs. Jackson. "They like the show the way it is and they don't like change. We know. We tried adding new characters here and there and went back to our original form."

So — for the time being at least — "Perry Mason" will still be winning his weekly case in the courtroom. It sure gives a warm comfortable feeling to know that something is stable in that unstable world of television.

ABC, after studying the generally enthusiastic comments on a recent five-day test run, has awarded interviewer — commentator Les Crane a late-evening weekday network show starting Nov. 9.

State Fiscal Policies Hit by Levitt Again

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller's fiscal policies are under fresh attack from State Comptroller Arthur Levitt, who says the state could have saved $43 million by selling bonds directly to finance expansion of the State University.

The savings, Levitt argued Sunday, could have been made in interest charges.

Levitt, a Democrat, and other critics long have argued that Republican Rockefeller's method of financing State University expansion has resulted in higher interest costs.

A total of $229.6 million in bonds, for the State University has been sold by the State Housing Finance Agency, Levitt said.

Levitt holds that housing agency bonds are not backed by the state's credit and thus involve higher interest charges.

The housing finance agency lends money from the sale of bonds to the State University Construction Fund, which builds college buildings and leases them to the University.

The university meets the rent with income from students' tuition.

Herbert Hoover collected his salary during his term as U. S. president, but he used the money for charitable purposes.

Perry Mason To Keep Winning Cases This Year

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Perry Mason" fans turned around and accidentally nipped star Raymond Burr recently. Mr. Burr was in no position to complain.

For the past three or four years, the actor has suggested about this time that it will be his final season. He is interested in other pursuits, he says, including his art galleries, motion pictures and a stage career. There follows a period of considerable excitement at CBS but ultimately comes the news that "Perry Mason" will continue for another season or so.

This year, however, Burr started scrambling in print ahead of his usual schedule. This led television innocents to believe that the summer reruns from 1961 and 1962 shows were to be Perry's swan-song. They wrote in, declaring their undying affection.

For the first time in the seven-year history of the program, however, Burr's prediction of the end to the successful television career of Eric Stanley Gardner's most popular character may be accurate.

Gail Patrick Jackson, producer of the series and Gardner's partner in Paisano Productions, says: "I feel that Ray means it this year."

"This year" means, however, there will be the usual quota of new shows to run from September to April or May.

Burr's contract expires at the end of the 1964-65 season and CBS has made no move as yet to renew the series or star. This situation could change suddenly, should the venerable program — in its new, earlier time slot on Thursdays — nab a high audience rating.

"But as far as 'Perry Mason' is concerned, we're old-fashioned and I think our fans are," said Mrs. Jackson. "They like the show the way it is and they don't like change. We know. We tried adding new characters here and there — and went back to our original form."

So — for the time being at least — "Perry Mason" will still be winning his weekly case in the courtroom. It sure gives a warm comfortable feeling to know that something is stable in that unstable world of television.

ABC, after studying the generally enthusiastic comments on a recent five-day test run, has awarded interviewer — commentator Les Crane a late-evening weekday network show starting Nov. 9.

State Fiscal Policies Hit by Levitt Again

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller's fiscal policies are under fresh attack from State Comptroller Arthur Levitt, who says the state could have saved $13 million by selling bonds directly to finance expansion of the State University.

The savings, Levitt argued Sunday, could have been made in interest charges.

Levitt, a Democrat, and other critics long have argued that Republican Rockefeller's method of financing State University expansion has resulted in higher interest costs.

A total of $229.6 million in bonds, for the State University has been sold by the State Housing Finance Agency, Levitt said.

Levitt holds that housing agency bonds are not backed by the state's credit and thus involve higher interest charges.

The housing finance agency lends money from the sale of bonds to the State University Construction Fund, which builds college buildings and leases them to the University.

The university meets the rent with income from students' tuition.

Herbert Hoover collected his salary during his term as U. S. president, but he used the money for charitable purposes.

Only a Few Minutes from Wherever You Live

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices have regained almost all the ground lost in their flight from the guns of August — the guns off and along the coast of North Viet Nam.

The losses were largely confined to two jittery sessions widely watched, with most of the recouping in five fairly quiet ones scarcely noted.

Once more stocks are responding more to the reports on the state of the economy than to crises in Southeast Asia, Cyprus or the Congo. And how business looks is likely to carry more weight for awhile, except for occasional emotional responses to campaign oratory.

The two bad days in the market look worse on the charts of the popular stock indexes than they actually were in dollars and cents.

For example, when the Dow Jones index of 30 industrial stocks drops one point, that doesn't mean the average loss of the 30 stocks was $1 each.

The average actually slipped by something closer to 10 cents.

On Monday, Aug. 3, the Dow Jones index closed at $40.35, the final hour or so affected by the first word of the naval clash between a U.S. destroyer and North Vietnamese torpedo boats. It touched its low point Thursday, Aug. 6, closing at $23.40. On the charts this is a sharp drop of 12.95 points but not $12.95. The actual loss of the 30 blue-chip stocks averaged around $1.30.

Not National Catastrophe

This was unpleasant enough for holders of stocks hit by the selling waves, but it was scarcely a national catastrophe.

From the low point the index climbed back fairly steadily to close Friday, Aug. 14, at $38.81. The average price of the 30 stocks on this index thus was only about 15 cents lower than when the naval shooting was reported, although the index was 1.54 points lower.

Profit reports still coming in continue the line set earlier—the first six months of 1964 were the most profitable first half for any year. And stock buyers and stockholders like increasing profits.

Showed Dividend Gain

Also, the cash dividends paid on stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange came to $6.3 billion in the first half, up 9.1 per cent from outlays by the same companies in the like 1963 period.

Thus the market as a whole may not have climbed as high this year as you might have supposed by looking at only your favorite index. Also it may not have been as badly shaken by the Viet Nam crisis as you may have thought at the time.

BACILLA TRAVELED THE WORLD SO SHE COULD SEE PLACES BEFORE MARRYING AND SETTLING DOWN...

SO WHOM DID SHE PICK FOR A HUSBAND? WHY, AN ARMY MAN WHO'S ALWAYS ON THE MOVE...

Indian, Negro Entering Swank Prep Schools Now

HANOVER, N.H. (AP) — An Indian youth from South Dakota curls up with Homer's "Odyssey," his eyes darting hungrily across each page. A Negro, idly drumming his knuckles with a pencil, frowns in concentration over an algebra problem.

One is from a windswept reservation on the Great Plains, the other from the slums of Harlem.

But both are on the threshold of a world once reserved for the rich and the well-born. They are preparing to enter the swankiest of New England prep schools.

For these youngsters, and 52 others like them, Dartmouth College and 40 top-grade preparatory schools this summer launched a program called project ABC — or "A Better Chance."

Its purpose is to help the boys bridge the gap between their home environments and the campuses of places like the Choate School, Phillips Andover Academy, Groton, St. Paul's and Hotchkiss.

For eight weeks they are boning up on mathematics and English at Dartmouth. They attend classes for four hours daily, then study on their own for at least four hours more. The atmosphere is tense and competitive, much as it would be at prep school.

The boys were selected by the independent schools' talent search program, whose field director is James E. Simmons, a Negro and graduate of Harvard. Working with teachers, welfare workers, church groups and others, he found promising students with uncertain academic future. Most are Negroes from the big cities of the East or from rural areas of the South. One is a Puerto Rican from New York. Another is a Chinese-American. All come from impoverished families, many subsisting on welfare payments.

If they do well in the ABC program, the boys — ranging in age from 13 to 17 — will go on to prep schools with full scholarship aid.

Don't Blame Partner's Bid

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A letter from Denver reads:

"My opponents rattled off six diamond tricks against my three no-trump contract in less time than it takes to write about it. I had no trouble with the rest of the tricks, but we could have made an easy game in hearts. Should my partner have bid three hearts over my two no-trump? Or is the book that told me to bid two no-trump wrong? My hand is a perfect two no-trump bid, isn't it?"

The answer to his first question is that his partner's rebid to three no-trump was eminently correct.

The answer to his second question is that to the best of my knowledge and belief no book on bridge has ever recommended a two no-trump response to a one club opening with this player's hand.

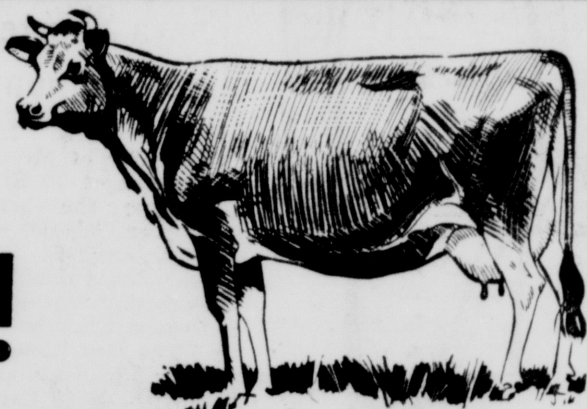

That answers his third question at the same time. His hand is far from being a perfect two no-trump response. He has the right distribution and the right number of points but he doesn't have the right stoppers.

The two no-trump response must have stoppers in all unbid suits and this hand doesn't have anything that looks like a diamond stopper.

Furthermore, the hand contains a pretty nice four card heart suit and it is good general policy never to respond in no-trump when you can show a major suit at the one level.

STATE NEWSPAPER MEETING HELD

Delegates to the Empire State Newspaper Council held a weekend meeting at the Stuyvesant Hotel. The Council presented an attaché case to Bernard Stine of the New York Times in recognition of his recent election to the post of regional vice president, American Newspaper Guild (International). On hand for the presentation (l-r) Philip Feldman of Rochester, council secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Dorothy A. Narel, president of the Kingston Newspaper Guild and vice president of the state council; Charles Booth of Utica, council president; and Sherwood Lasher, treasurer of the Kingston unit.

The American Newspaper Guild, founded in 1933 as an editorial department union, now has 32,000 members at some 180 newspapers, the major news services and the principal news magazines. Today the Guild covers all newspaper employees who are not represented by the printing trades and other craft unions. ESNC delegates attended the local conference from Albany, Buffalo, Kingston, Newburgh-Beacon, New York City, Niagara Falls, Tonawanda, Rochester, Utica and from Jersey City and Hudson in New Jersey. MRS. MARTIN H. WYLDE (Photo Workshop)

Sara Shurter, Martin Wylde Are Wed
In Ceremony at Fair Street Reformed

Miss Sara Helen Shurter, daughter of Mrs. Howard Craig Shurter of 10 St. James Street became the bride of Martin Herbert Wylde, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Wylde of Stone Ridge in a double ring ceremony Saturday at Fair Street Reformed Church.

The Rev. Edwin C. Coon, pastor, officiated at the 2 p. m. event. Mrs. Earl Ryland was organist.

She carried a cascade of butterfly orchids, white stephanotis and ivy foliage.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Joseph Gardner, Oneonta, the bride's sister. Bridesmaids included Miss Ora Linda Schneider of Kingston; Mrs. Peter Lang of New York City and Mrs. Lynn Tonsing of Milton, N. Y.

They wore A line gowns in jade green chiffon fashioned with empire bodices, mid-length sleeves and cocktail length skirts. The high waistlines were encircled with matching velvet and they wore velvet bows with circular tulle veils.

The honor attendant carried a cascade of yellow pompom chrysanthemums with peach daisies. Bridesmaids carried fireside baskets of yellow chrysanthemums, snapdragons and peach daisies.

Suppers

A baked ham supper will be served family style by the Women's Society of Christian Service at the West Hurley Methodist Church on Tuesday, Aug. 25.

Servings will start at 5:30 p. m. and continue until all have been served. Dessert will be peach shortcake.

RUDE NOT TO USE
ENCLOSED REPLY CARD

Q—It seems to be becoming more and more customary to enclose reply cards with wedding invitations. I dislike them intensely and think they are not only in bad taste but insulting as well. Whenever I receive an invitation with a reply card enclosed, I ignore it and write a formal third person note of acceptance or regret. I have been criticized for not using the reply card. I was taught to answer a formal invitation with a third person note and I think I am perfectly right in doing so regardless of the reply card.

A—While it is true that reply cards are not in good taste and that a formal invitation is correctly answered with a third person note, nevertheless, when one is enclosed, it is rude to ignore it because by doing so you imply criticism of those who sent it.

Thank-You Note

Q—Will you please give me some idea of what to write to friends who sent presents and flowers to me while I was in the hospital. I am very bad at letter writing.

A—You might write something like the following, "Dear Jane, Thank you for the lovely flowers and for your kindness in thinking of me." Or, "Thank you, dear Mary, for the beautiful bed jacket and your loving note. Do come in and see me soon."

MRS. MARTIN H. WYLDE (Photo Workshop)

Miss Sara Helen Shurter, daughter of Mrs. Howard Craig Shurter of 10 St. James Street became the bride of Martin Herbert Wylde, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Wylde of Stone Ridge in a double ring ceremony Saturday at Fair Street Reformed Church.

The Rev. Edwin C. Coon, pastor, officiated at the 2 p. m. event. Mrs. Earl Wylde was organist.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Joseph S. Gardiner, the bride wore a Princess A line gown in organza and re-embroidered Alencon lace, highlighted with seed pearl trim, and terminating in a detachable wattleau train. The triple tiered silk illusion veil was shirred to a bridal crown with a front bow. She carried a cascade of butterfly orchids, white stephanotis and ivy foliage.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Joseph Gardiner, Oneonta, the bride's sister. Bridesmaids included Miss Ora Linda Schneider, Kingston; Mrs. Peter Lang of New York City and Mrs. Lynn Tensing of Milton, N. Y. They wore A line gowns in jade green chiffon fashioned with empire bodices, mid-length sleeves and cocktail length skirts. The high waistlines were encircled with matching velvet and they wore velvet bows with circular tulle veils.

RUDE NOT TO USE

Q—It seems to be becoming more and more customary to enclose reply cards with wedding invitations. I dislike them intensely and think they are not only in bad taste but insulting as well. Whenever I receive an invitation with a reply card enclosed, I ignore it and write a formal third person note of acceptance or regret. I have been criticized for not using the reply card. I was taught to answer a formal invitation with a third person note and I think I am perfectly right in doing so regardless of the reply card.

A—While it is true that reply cards are not in good taste and that a formal invitation is correctly answered with a third person note, nevertheless, when one is enclosed, it is rude to ignore it because by doing so you imply criticism of those who sent it.

Thank-You Note

Q—Will you please give me some idea of what to write to friends who sent presents and flowers to me while I was in the hospital. I am very bad at letter writing.

A—You might write something like the following: "Dear Jane, Thank you for the lovely flowers and for your kindness in thinking of me." Or, "Thank you, dear Mary, for the beautiful bed jacket and your loving note. Do come in and see me soon."

The Best Man's Wife

Q—My fiancé would like to ask a married friend of his to be best man at our forthcoming wedding. Is it, out of courtesy, necessary to ask his wife to be one of the bridesmaids?

A—It is not at all necessary that you have her as one of your bridesmaids.

The Mature Parent

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: Please tell me what to do. I am 16; but though my parents let my brother take responsibility for himself when he was my age, I am not allowed to take any. When I ask them why I can't do something, they say, "Because I say so." I try and try to get them to talk to me and give me their reasons, but they won't. My friends think that I should not have to take this at my age.

ANSWER: What do your friends want you to do about it? Quit school? Leave home? Find a job? If you lose it, will they feed, clothe and shelter you?

You'd better take a long second look at the value of these friends who urge you to take risks you are not ready to take by encouraging your dissatisfaction with a situation you've got to take for now. They are using you to make themselves feel independent because they are so mad that they are still dependent on their parents.

Stop trusting them. Trust time instead.

You are 16 now. Six years ago you were 10 years old. A little girl who got dolls, red mittens and jewelry-making kits for Christmas. Now you get perfume, lingerie and an electric hair-dryer. In another six years you will be 22, ready to graduate or already graduated from college.

My best counsel is to remember that time passes. No comfort in the world can comfort you so well as recovering our own experience of the way time has moved us forward, changing us, releasing from the person we were yesterday into a new kind of person. If you will remember this, you can hope for more change, more release instead of despairing as you're now doing that you are trapped in permanent, dependent obedience to your parents.

By wanting to take more "responsibility" for yourself, you really mean that you want to set your own hours for coming home from dates and parties, don't you?

Well, you're certainly entitled to wish that your parents were sharing people who would tell you their reasons for refusing you. But the wish is not going to change them. So what do we do with this fact? Fuss at it and make everyone, including ourselves, miserable for the small time that remains between you and womanhood? It seems like a pretty silly solution.

Get friendly with time. Try to begin to appreciate what it has already done for you, making you bigger, prettier, more competent every day. When the day comes for you to leave your parents, it will tell you know—and it will also tell them, "She's ready now." (All rights reserved. Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Poughkeepsie May Get New Manager From Binghamton

A Binghamton official, Theodore W. Maurer, 42, will be recommended to the Common Council at a meeting tonight, for appointment as Poughkeepsie's city manager to succeed Kenneth Pearce.

Maurer is an enrolled Democrat. He has been executive assistant to the mayor of Binghamton the last seven years. He also serves as director of safety and ordinance control, deputy commissioner of public safety, chairman of the mayor's salary and job evaluation committee, administrator of the health insurance program in Binghamton.

Maurer is married and the father of two children. He was one of four candidates interviewed by the Council committee in its final review of more than 20 applications for the post.

Dear Abby . . .

Words of Wisdom!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband told me about a silly dream he had last night. He dreamed that this friend of ours came to our house with no clothes on. She just walked in naked and sat down in the parlor. I was upstairs at the time. She told my husband that I had told her to come over with no clothes on. My husband came running upstairs and said to me, "Why did you tell her to come here naked?" And that was the end of the dream.

My husband thought this was very funny. But the more I thought about it, the less funny I thought it was. Why should my husband be dreaming about another woman with no clothes on? I discussed it with a friend of mine who is known for her good sense and she said I shouldn't worry because if my husband had had any out-of-the-way thoughts about this woman he never would have told me the dream. I remain—

UNCONVINCED

DEAR UNCONVINCED: Your friend is wise. Believe her.

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with Jerome for three years. I date others, but Jerome is the man I want to marry. He says he loves me, but he only proposes to me when he is out with the boys and has had a few drinks. Then he calls me up in the middle of the night and asks me to marry him. He doesn't drink at all when he's with me. How can I get him to ask me to marry him when he is sober?

WANTS JEROME

DEAR WANTS: You probably can't. And even if you could, he sounds like the type who'd have to get half-plastered before he could get the nerve to go through with it. Marriage must be lived in the cold, clear, sober light of reality. Promises that come out of bottles are usually the first to go down the drain. Scratch Jerome.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were intrigued with your suggestions on how to keep a neighbor's chickens out of one's yard. My husband wants to know if you have any suggestions on how to keep our neighbor's ducks from fouling up our horses' water trough. The ducks come over and swim in it, leaving feathers and other dirty matter behind so that the trough has to be emptied and cleaned out every day. Is there a solution to this problem?

GENESEE, IDAHO
DEAR GEN: Horse sense tells me it's duck soup!

DEAR ABBY: I am a 16-year-old boy who is very mature for my age and look much older. There is a divorced lady who lives on the corner near me. Every time she sees me she tells me what a nice looking young fellow I am and she asks me when I am coming over to visit her. She says she is lonesome. Should I tell my father?

SONNY

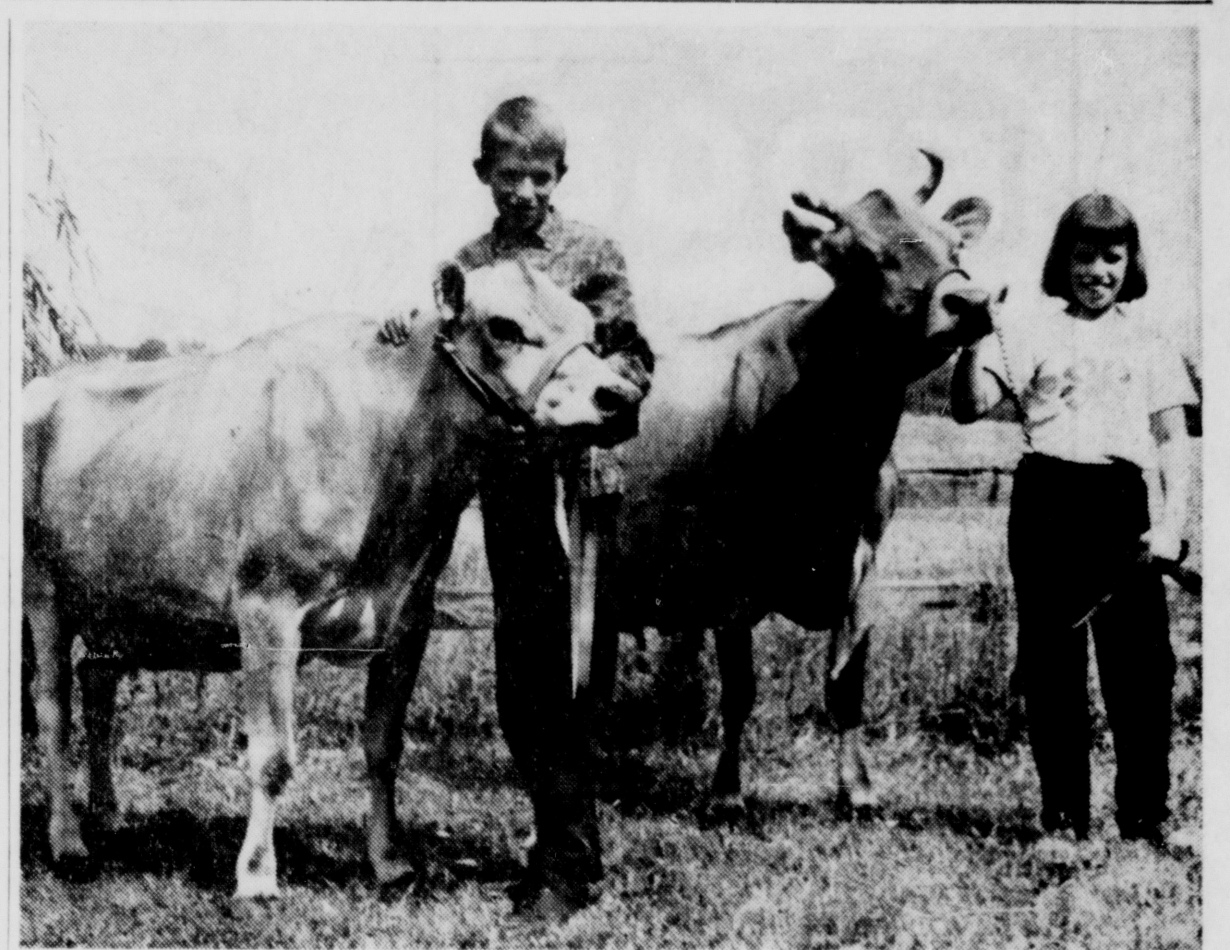

DEAR SONNY: No. Tell your mother.

CONFIDENTIAL TO A SCORE OF CLERGYMEN AND MANY MORE LAYMEN: When 11-year-old Debbie wrote to ask why, since there was a Mother's Day and a Father's Day, there was no Children's Day, I replied: "There is. And it falls on each child's birthday." I stand corrected. There IS indeed an official Children's Day. And it falls on the second Sunday in June! Twenty swats with a rolled-up calendar for Abby.

Adult Education Sources Are Listed In New Directory

The Mid-Hudson Council for Continuing Education has compiled a directory of educational institutions in the Mid-Hudson area. This directory includes the addresses of every institution that provides for adult or continuing education sources for those who have left formal education. The copies of this directory may be obtained from the Guidance Directors of all of the Mid-Hudson area high schools, from the Deans of Bard College, Dutchess Community College, Marist College, the Orange County Community College, State University College at New Paltz, and Ulster County Community College. The directory may also be obtained from the various Chambers of Commerce in Kingston, the office in the Governor Clinton Hotel, in Newburgh, the office at 77 Broadway, and in Poughkeepsie at the office at 42 Market Street.

There is no charge for these directories which are designed to help those who have an educational problem which they would like to solve, to find the appropriate school, and to find specific information by either telephone or letter to a competent director in each institution.

The Mid-Hudson Council for Continuing Education is a non-profit organization composed of educational directors of colleges, high schools, adult education programs, and industrial institutions. The purpose of the organization is to help two classes of adults. The first is the young person who has not completed high school and who wishes either to complete his schooling at night or to take specialized courses to advance him professionally. The other class of adults that the council tries to help is the graduate of high school who did not go on to college or the adult who dropped out of college without earning a degree. The education requirements of both classes of adults range from professional advancement, the desire for cultural improvement, and the need for recreational or avocational enrichment. The directors of the Mid-Hudson Council for Continuing Education are Chairman Dr.

John Schroeder, Dean of Marist College Evening Division; Vice

Chairman Mr. Arthur S. May, Director of the Arlington High School Adult Education Program; Secretary Mr. Donald L. Fenner, Director of the Educational Program of Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

Dear Abby . . .

Words of Wisdom!

Abigail Van Buren

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: Please tell me what to do. I am 16; but though my parents let my brother take responsibility for himself when he was my age, I am not allowed to take any. When I ask them why I can't do something, they say, "Because I say so." I try and try to get them to talk to me and give me their reasons, but they won't. My friends think that I should not have to take this at my age.

ANSWER: What do your friends want you to do about it? Quit school? Leave home? Find a job? If you lose it, will they feed, clothe and shelter you?

You'd better take a long second look at the value of these friends who urge you to take risks you are not ready to take by encouraging your dissatisfaction with a situation you've got to take for now. They are using you to make themselves feel independent because they are so mad that they are still dependent on their parents.

Stop trusting them. Trust time instead.

You are 16 now. Six years ago you were 10 years old, a little girl who got dolls, red mittens and jewelry-making kits for Christmas. Now you get perfume, lingerie and an electric hair-dryer. In another six years you will be 22, ready to graduate, or already graduated from college.

My best counsel is to remember that time passes. No comfort in the world can comfort us so well as recovering our own experience of the way time has moved us forward, changing us, releasing from the person we were yesterday into a new kind all the time. If you will remember this, you can hope for more change, more release instead of despairing as you're now doing that you are trapped in permanent, dependent obedience to your parents.

By wanting to take more "responsibility" for yourself, you really mean that you want to set your own hours for coming home from dates and parties, don't you?

Well, you're certainly entitled to wish that your parents were sharing people who would tell you their reasons for refusing you. But the wish is not going to change them. So what do we do with this fact? Fuss at it and make everyone, including ourselves, miserable for the small time that remains between you and womanhood? It seems like a pretty silly solution.

Get friendly with time. Try to begin to appreciate what it has already done for you, making you bigger, prettier, more competent every day. When the day comes for you to leave your parents, it will let you know—and it will also tell them, "She's ready now."

Poughkeepsie May Get New Manager From Binghamton

A Binghamton official, Theodore W. Maurer, 42, will be recommended to the Common Council at a meeting tonight, for appointment as Poughkeepsie's city manager to succeed Kenneth Pearce.

Maurer is an enrolled Democrat. He has been executive assistant to the mayor of Binghamton the last seven years. He also serves as director of safety and ordinance control, deputy commissioner of public safety, chairman of the mayor's salary and job evaluation committee, administrator of the health insurance program in Binghamton. Maurer is married and the father of two children. He was one of four candidates interviewed by the Council committee in its final review of more than 20 applications for the post.

WILL SHOW 4-H CATTLE AT COUNTY FAIR — Shown above are Mike and Nancy Warren, 4-H Club members from High Falls with their Jersey cows they will be exhibiting at the Ulster County Fair. These proud 4-H members will be competing with many others in the 4-H Showmanship Class which will be held on Wednesday morning, August 19. The Ulster County Fair, the only free fair in New York State will be held on Wednesday and Thursday, August 19 and 20 at Forsyth Park, in Kingston. The public is invited to attend. (Freeman photo).

Adult Education Sources Are Listed In New Directory

The Mid-Hudson Council for Continuing Education has compiled a directory of educational institutions in the Mid-Hudson area. This directory includes the addresses of every institution that provides for adult or continuing education sources for those who have left formal education. The copies of this directory may be obtained from the Guidance Directors of all of the Mid-Hudson area high schools, from the Deans of Bard College, Dutchess Community College, Marist College, the Orange County Community College, State University College at New Paltz, and Ulster County Community College. The directory may also be obtained from the various Chambers of Commerce in Kingston, the office in the Governor Clinton Hotel, in Newburgh, the office at 77 Broadway, and in Poughkeepsie at the office at 42 Market Street.

There is no charge for these directories which are designed to help those who have an educational problem which they would like to solve, to find the appropriate school, and to find specific information by either telephone or letter to a competent director in each institution.

The Mid-Hudson Council for Continuing Education is a non-profit organization composed of educational directors of colleges, high schools, adult education programs, and industrial institutions. The purpose of the organization is to help two classes of adults. The first is the young person who has not completed high school and who wishes either to complete his schooling at night or to take specialized courses to advance him professionally. The other class of adults that the council tries to help is the graduate of high school who did not go on to college or the adult who dropped out of college without earning a degree. The education requirements of both classes of adults range from professional advancement, the desire for cultural improvement, and the need for recreational or avocational enrichment. The directors of the Mid-Hudson Council for Continuing Education are Chairman Dr.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain
New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.
In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.
Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"
The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

DEAR ABBY: My husband told me about a silly dream he had last night. He dreamed that this friend of ours came to our house with no clothes on. She just walked in naked and sat down in the parlor. I was upstairs at the time. She told my husband that I had told her to come over with no clothes on. My husband came running upstairs and said to me, "Why did you tell her to come here naked?" And that was the end of the dream.

My husband thought this was very funny. But the more I thought about it, the less funny I thought it was. Why should my husband be dreaming about another woman with no clothes on? I discussed it with a friend of mine who is known for her good sense and she said I shouldn't worry because if my husband had had any out-of-the-way thoughts about this woman he never would have told me the dream. I remain—
UNCONVINCED

DEAR UNCONVINCED: Your friend is wise. Believe her.

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with Jerome for three years. I date others, but Jerome is the man I want to marry. He says he loves me, but he only proposes to me when he is out with the boys and has had a few drinks. Then he calls me up in the middle of the night and asks me to marry him. He doesn't drink at all when he's with me. How can I get him to ask me to marry him when he is sober?

WANTS JEROME
DEAR WANTS: You probably can't. And even if you could, he sounds like the type who'd have to get half-plastered before he could get the nerve to go through with it. Marriage must be lived in the cold, clear, sober light of reality. Promises that come out of bottles are usually the first to go down the drain. Scratch Jerome.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were intrigued with your suggestions on how to keep a neighbor's chickens out of one's yard. My husband wants to know if you have any suggestions on how to keep our neighbor's ducks from fouling up our horses' watering trough. The ducks come over and swim in it, leaving feathers and other dirty matter behind so that the trough has to be emptied and cleaned out every day. Is there a solution to this problem?

GENESEE, IDAHO
DEAR GEN: Horse sense tells me it's duck soup!

DEAR ABBY: I am a 16-year-old boy who is very mature for my age and look much older. There is a divorced lady who lives on the corner near me. Every time she sees me she tells me what a nice looking young fellow I am and she asks me when I am coming over to visit her. She says she is lonesome. Should I tell my father?

SONNY
DEAR SONNY: No. Tell your mother.

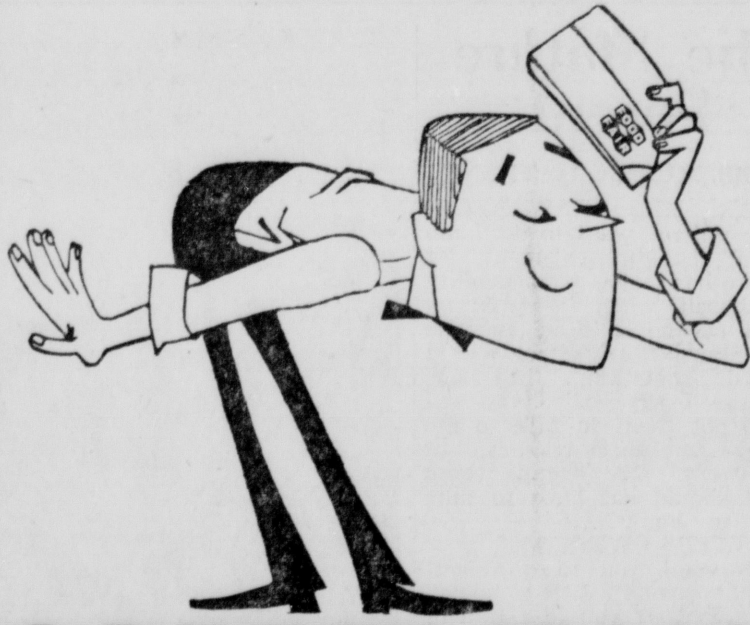

CONFIDENTIAL TO A SCORE OF CLERGYMEN AND MANY MORE LAYMEN: When 11-year-old Debbie wrote to ask why, since there was a Mother's Day and a Father's Day, there was no Children's Day, I replied: "There is. And it falls on each child's birthday."
I stand corrected. There IS indeed an official Children's Day. And it falls on the second Sunday in June! Twenty suits with a rolled-up calendar for Abby.

Named Division Chairman of '65 Chest Fund Drive

General campaign chairman Joseph J. Benjamin has announced that Leo F. Kilcoyne will head the Diversified Business Division for the 1965 Chest campaign. Kilcoyne is manager of Industrial Engineering at I.B.M. He is a graduate of the University of Massachusetts.

Formerly president, Kilcoyne currently serves on the Board of Directors of the Hudson Valley Philharmonic. Also, he is a past chairman for the Ulster County Cancer Crusade. The Diversified Business Division is composed of firms and businesses employing less than 15 persons. There are more than 500 accounts in Kilcoyne's division.

Kilcoyne faces two major challenges, Benjamin reports. First, his division must recruit a substantial number of volunteer personnel. Next, every account must be contacted and given the opportunity to support the 12 agencies affiliated with the Chest.

Recognizing these obstacles, Kilcoyne admits that his objectives in the 1965 campaign are to produce better organization and coverage than before.

"We are committed," says Kilcoyne, "to raising the dollars required to meet the increasing needs of the health, welfare, and character building services supported by the Chest."

All our solicitors are volunteers performing a necessary public service. We trust that every businessman contacted by our personnel will greet the solicitor with courtesy and understanding," Kilcoyne said. The 1965 Ulster County Community Chest goal is $223,000.

LEO F. KILCOYNE

Contributions Noted

Chief of the Rosendale Fire Police, Maurice Crookston, today expressed appreciation to several groups which contributed to the success of the annual Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association parade held in Rosendale recently.

The 11 Meter Club of Kingston supplied radio contact from one end of the parade to the other. New Paltz Ambulance, Moylan's Ambulance Service and the Rondout Valley First Air and Rescue Squad covered the area with "quiet, efficient service."

Unused Barn Is Razed Saturday In Blue Mountain

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed a large unused frame barn owned by John Kaminski off Van Vliedon Road, Blue Mountain, late Saturday night.

Fire officials reported the barn had not been used for some time. The building was a total loss, it was reported.

Fire Chief Robert Thein of Centerville, and Assistant Chief Scott Myers were in command of firemen. Volunteers from Centerville and Cedar Grove answered the alarm, and Lynch Hose Co. stood by at the Centerville firehouse.

Firemen returned to the fire scene Sunday night to wet down smoldering embers.

Gotham Police

Turkish military activities in Cyprus.

About 3 a.m. Sunday, a dance broke up at the Palm Gardens on West 52nd Street, and from 1,000 to 1,500 patrons emerged.

About 500 of the patrons, mostly teen-age Negroes, roamed Broadway, smashing several store windows and looting the window displays a few blocks north of Times Square. Metal trash baskets were heaved through the windows. Police said the youths dropped most of the items taken from the shops as officers arrived.

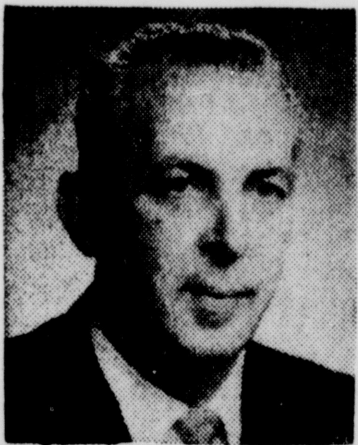

Five youths were arrested, and the rest scattered. One youth's arm was almost severed by broken glass.

Hoffa Gets 20 Years, $10,000 Fine

CHICAGO (AP)—Teamsters President James R. Hoffa was sentenced today to 20 years in prison for fraud in obtaining huge loans from his union multi-million-dollar pension fund.

He also was fined $10,000. The 20-year sentence was broken down into five years on each of the four counts on which he was convicted.

Three Lose Lives

41, of 47 German Street, Kingston.

Has Head Injury

Kuchler was taken to St. Francis Hospital, Poughkeepsie, and treated for a laceration of the forehead. Hogan was also taken to the same hospital and treated for possible rib fractures, police said.

Passengers in the Hogan car who were taken to Vassar Hospital were Josephine Amato, 59, of 3 Grove Street, Kingston, who was treated for contusions, and Mary Amato, 60, of the German Street address, who sustained contusions of the right leg.

Egle Damjanovics, 21, of the Hudson River State Hospital, owner of the car driven by Richardson, was treated at Vassar Hospital for multiple lacerations and rib fractures.

Second Fatality

Richardson was the second person to lose his life in a Dutchess County traffic accident.

Friday night, Constantine Padworski, 31, father of six children, of 125 Vassar Road, Town of Poughkeepsie, was killed in a two-car collision on Route 9 near the entrance to St. Francis Hospital. The other car, a 1955 sedan, was driven by Lonnie K. McKinney, of 1 Tailmadge Street, Poughkeepsie, who suffered multiple injuries and was admitted to a hospital.

Also Friday night, Mrs. Helen Brown Dennison, 66, of Rock Tavern was killed in a two-car crash at an intersection near Middletown, to complete the list of area traffic fatalities last weekend.

31 Lives Lost

An Associated Press report stated that a total of 31 lives were lost in accidents of various sorts throughout the state.

Six persons were pitched into Long Island Sound off Rye Beach Sunday when a boat overturned. A woman was drowned and two other persons were missing. The other three were rescued.

The dead woman was identified only as Ross, police said. They said the missing men were Andrew Lee Neely and Roy Cowan, both 35 and of Manhattan.

At Cattaraugus, an 8-year-old boy suffocated in kerosene Sunday night when he fell head first into a 30-gallon drum.

Police said Timothy Blackmer fell into five inches of kerosene at the bottom of the drum in a service station operated by his father, Richard Blackmer. A coroner said the boy suffocated.

And, at Somers, workmen moving the wreckage of a car in which a Somers teen-ager was injured Sunday found the body of another youth under the wreck. The dead youth was James Duncan, 16, of Somers, police said.

Arrested for Speeding

Victor R. Ricketson, 17, of Route 4, Box 526, Kingston, was issued a summons by Deputy Sheriff Vincent Van Demark for speeding on Route 28, Town of Kingston. The summons is returnable before Justice of the Peace Robert Ferrigan of Town of Kingston.

Two Are Injured As Car Overturns Near Staatsburg

Two Troy residents were injured at 12:05 a. m. Sunday, when the car in which they were riding left Route 9 near Staatsburg and rolled down an embankment, according to State Trooper William Urey of Rhinebeck.

Stephen DeWitt, 29, was driving his car north on the Albany Post Road when he swerved to avoid an unidentified object on the highway. The car left the east side of the pavement, veered across the two traffic lanes and went down an embankment and overturned.

DeWitt suffered lacerations of the right arm. A passenger, Emma Conyers, 16, also of Troy, sustained a possible fractured shoulder and skull injuries. Both were taken to St. Francis Hospital, Poughkeepsie.

Trooper Urey said DeWitt was summoned on charges of driving an unregistered motor vehicle and having no insurance. Both summonses are returnable at a later date before Justice of the Peace Hulet Silvernale, Town of Hyde Park.

Negro Rioting

said. "We expect it to continue."

1,000 Take Part

Sheriff Ogilvie, in charge of the policemen at the riot scene, estimated 1,000 Negroes took part. Ogilvie ordered a heavy patrol in the neighborhood to prevent further rioting.

Police said the disturbance had been brewing since Saturday night when a Negro woman was accused of trying to steal a bottle of gin from the liquor store. Negroes said the woman was beaten by the white store owner in the quarrel.

Protesting Negroes demonstrated Saturday night and returned Sunday night in greater force. "The civil rights leaders lost control," said Horschmann, who had been on duty in the area for two days.

Mostly Young People

Horschmann said at one time Sunday night civil rights leaders used police microphones using the crowds to disperse. "But they (the crowds) just wanted violence," he said. Most of the demonstrators were youths in their teens, he said.

The mob set fire to a vacant, newly constructed home in an attempt, officials said, to lure police and fire officials into the area. Fire trucks called from neighboring communities were among the first vehicles to be stoned.

James Malnor, assistant fire chief of Dixmoor, said, "I'll tell you, they're like savages." Malnor was cut on the face by a flying brick.

The home burned to the ground and another next door was damaged as it took firemen an hour and a half, escorted by 30 policemen, to reach the scene and put out the flames.

Reuther Claims

the industry's "fantastic, unbelievable profits."

He called for an "overwhelming strike vote" by UAW members there to back up union negotiators. Polling of union members has been ordered among workers of all three companies.

The union, which never has accepted the first offer made, last week demanded company time was fast fading if a strike were to be avoided.

Enters 7th Week

New contract bargaining now is in its seventh week. Current three-year pacts run out at GM, Ford and Chrysler Aug. 31.

As "an absolute minimum," the UAW is demanding an economic gain of 4.9 per cent over current average hourly wages in the auto industry. The Bureau of Labor Statistics figures the current average hourly wage in the auto industry at $3.01. Current contracts carry an annual wage increase of 2.5 per cent.

Addresses Chairman

While the President was addressing Republican state chairmen at a strategy session. Although the meeting was closed it was learned he said the American people are frightened about dishonesty in high places. He mentioned the Bobby Baker and Billie Sol Estes cases and said the Republicans may put out a book of "Bobby Baker nursery rhymes."

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., told the California State Democratic convention in Sacramento that Goldwater "shoots from the lip."

Says Approach Radical

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., said on the Metropolitan Broadcasting Co. television program "Opinion in the Capitol" that Goldwater's "approach is a radical one in that it involves a rather violent departure from the traditional approach to politics at the presidential level."

House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., predicted on ABC's "Issues and Answers" that Goldwater will not carry more than eight states.

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., said on the CBS program "Face the Nation" that Republicans are going to make "the greatest retreat since Waterloo" from public positions Goldwater has taken on numerous issues.

In Miami Sunday night former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said he doesn't think Johnson would accuse Goldwater of political inconsistencies.

"It would be like the pot calling the kettle black," said the Republicans' 1960 presidential candidate.

Few men in political history ever have done as much "flip-flopping" in their positions as has Johnson, Nixon said.

sometime later, it was learned today. It was also indicated that firemen, at first, had been led to believe that Mrs. Nagele, and her husband, were still inside.

Spreads from Kitchen

From the kitchen, firemen said, the fire spread to the lower floor living room, a bedroom and closet. Damage to the first-floor area and contents was extensive. Heat and smoke damage spread to the second floor, damaging walls, furniture and clothing.

Cause of the blaze was listed as "undetermined."

Mrs. Charles Bonestell, noting that the fire brought a complete loss of clothing and furniture, has been assisting the victims in obtaining as many essential items as possible. Those interested in assisting, she said, may contact her. A crib and some clothing have been received she said, but indicated that such items as bedding are still needed.

A police investigation of a fire in old tires and rubbish on the John Otis property, 41 Boulevard, was requested Sunday afternoon. The fire was reported in progress near a garage while no one was at home. A unit from Wiltwyck Station answered a call at 3:27 p. m., with Capt. Edwin P. Murphy in charge, and the blaze was checked with a booster line.

for Kennedy came from a group of 12 prominent Democrats and from Edward N. Costikyan, Democratic leader of New York County — Manhattan.

The last public word from Kennedy was his week-old declaration that he would not consider running without express approval by Mayor Robert F. Wagner, the state's leading Democrat.

Wagner, who has repeatedly spoken favorably of Kennedy as a possible candidate, continued to withhold an endorsement.

CAR HITS ROCK LEDGE—Frank B. Murphy, 44, of 110 Tremper Avenue was treated at Benedictine Hospital for a nose injury Sunday after he allegedly fell asleep at the wheel of his car about 4 p. m. on Route 28 near Amberlight Restaurant. According to a report by Deputy Sheriff Bernard Ellsworth and B. H. Wolven, who investigated, Murphy was proceeding south on Route 28 in the town of Hurley when his car crossed the highway and ran into a shale bank on the left of the highway. He was taken to the hospital by Doctor's ambulance. (Freeman photo)

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

by ROGER E. SPEAR
Investment Advisor and Analyst

With Retirement Ahead,
It's Time to Tidy Up

Q) "I am planning to retire next year and wonder if I should sell some of my speculative stocks at a loss or wait until they go up?" I would feel more secure in American Tel. & Tel. At present I own shares of Ashland Oil, Copper Range, Lease Plan, and Aldens. What do you think of United Artists as an investment?" E. L.

A) Answering your last question first, I do not consider United Artists or any motion picture stock of investment quality. At this time, United Artists is very much of a speculation, but the company is making a remarkable earnings' comeback after last year's deficit.

With retirement in the offing, I feel it would be a wise move to set your financial house in order. There is nothing particularly wrong with any of your holdings to necessitate immediate sale, but they are not the type of issues "to retire with."

I believe your quality should be upgraded and suggest American Tel. & Tel., Philadelphia Electric, Sterling Drug, and J. C. Penney for replacement.

Q) "Do the United States Series E Savings Bonds, which presently mature in seven years and nine months after issuance, still continue to collect interest after they mature? If so, for how long and at what interest?" E. L.

A) The seven-year, nine-months Series E Bond is the shortest maturity offered and was first sold to the public in June, 1959. The Treasury Dept. has already stated that this Series E bond is to be granted an extension period. The rate of interest has not been decided, and many rates prevailing shortly before maturity will undoubtedly be the governing factor.

Open Final Week At YM Day Camp With 124 Signed

The YMCA Day Camp started its eighth and final week of the season today with 124 campers enrolled and an extensive program scheduled.

Features will include a beef stew cook-out, wood chopping contest, mountain hike, camp olympics, and Crazy Day when campers will be elected to take counselor's jobs.

New campers coming to camp this week are: Michael Botsford, Robert Botsford, Kimberly Collins, Randle Collins, Frank Gagliardo, Mark Jennings, Tracey Elaine Jennings, Daniel Kelley, Charles Lang, Christine McCarthy, Robert McCarthy, Fred Roland, Gregory Roland, Geoffrey Seeger, and Jeffrey Clark.

The special event of last week was the corn roast, when campers cooked and ate over 300 ears of corn roasted over an open fire and smothered in melted butter.

Ten boys and three leaders stayed over night last Monday, which included a mountain hike, evening dip and a camp fire. They were: Peter Klein, Eugene Bruno, Mark Ross, Gary Schantz, Keith Holmquist, Alan Hoey, Robert McCullough, Robert Helle, Edward Steveson and Steven Johnson.

Reilly Still Poor

The condition of Town of Ulster Justice of the Peace Arthur A. Reilly was reported as still "poor" at Benedictine Hospital today. Justice Reilly, a retired member of the New York State Police, was stricken at his home at Cutler Hill, Eddyville, last Friday. Since his retirement from the State Police BCI, Mr. Reilly has been employed by the Miron Building Products of Kingston.

Friday night, Constantine Padworski, 31, father of six children, of 125 Vassar Road, Town of Poughkeepsie, was killed in a two-car collision on Route 9 near the entrance to St. Francis Hospital. The other car, a 1955 sedan, was driven by Lonnie K. McKinney, of 1 Talmadge Street, Poughkeepsie, who suffered multiple injuries and was admitted to a hospital.

Also Friday night, Mrs. Helen Brown Denniston, 66, of Rock Tavern was killed in a two-car crash at an intersection near Middletown, to complete the list of area traffic fatalities last weekend.

31 Lives Lost

An Associated Press report stated that a total of 31 lives were lost in accidents of various sorts throughout the state.

Six persons were pitched into Long Island Sound off Rye Beach Sunday when a boat overturned. A woman was drowned and two other persons were missing. The other three were rescued.

The dead woman was identified only as Rose, police said. They said the missing men were Andrew Lee Neely and Roy Cowan, both 35 and of Manhattan.

At Cattaraugus, an 8-year-old boy suffocated in kerosene Sunday night when he fell head first into a 30-gallon drum.

Police said Timothy Blackmer fell into five inches of kerosene at the bottom of the drum in a service station operated by his father, Richard Blackmer. A coroner said the boy suffocated.

And, at Somers, workmen moving the wreckage of a car in which a Somers teenager was injured Sunday found the body of another youth under the wreck. The dead youth was James Duncan, 16, of Somers, police said.

Arrested for Speeding

Victor R. Rickelson, 17, of Route 4, Box 526, Kingston, was issued a summons by Deputy Sheriff Vincent Van Demark for speeding on Route 28, Town of Kingston. The summons is returnable before Justice of the Peace Robert Ferrigan of Town of Kingston.

Two Are Injured As Car Overturns Near Staatsburg

Two Troy residents were injured at 12:05 a. m. Sunday, when the car in which they were riding left Route 9 near Staatsburg and rolled down an embankment, according to State Trooper William Urey of Rhinebeck.

Stephen DeWitt, 29, was driving his car north on the Albany Post Road when he swerved to avoid an unidentified object on the highway. The car left the east side of the pavement, veered across the two traffic lanes and went down an embankment and overturned.

DeWitt suffered lacerations of the right arm. A passenger, Emma Conners, 16, also of Troy, sustained a possible fractured shoulder and skull injuries. Both were taken to St. Francis Hospital, Poughkeepsie.

Trooper Urey said DeWitt was summoned on charges of driving an unregistered motor vehicle and having no insurance. Both summonses are returnable at a later date before Justice of the Peace Hulet Silvernale, Town of Hyde Park.

Negro Rioting

said, "We expect it to continue."

1,000 Take Part

Sheriff Ogilvie, in charge of the policemen at the riot scene, estimated 1,000 Negroes took part. Ogilvie ordered a heavy patrol in the neighborhood to prevent further rioting.

Police said the disturbance had been brewing since Saturday night when a Negro woman was accused of trying to steal a bottle of gin from the liquor store. Negroes said the woman was beaten by the white store owner in the quarrel.

Protesting Negroes demonstrated Saturday night and returned Sunday night in greater force. "The civil rights leaders lost control," said Horsmann, who had been on duty in the area for two days.

Mostly Young People

Horsmann said at one time Sunday night civil rights leaders used police microphones urging the crowds to disperse.

"But they (the crowds) just wanted violence," he said. Most of the demonstrators were youths in their teens, he said.

The mob set fire to a vacant, newly constructed home in an attempt, officials said, to lure police and fire officials into the area. Fire trucks called from neighboring communities were among the first vehicles to be stoned.

James Malnor, assistant fire chief of Dixmoor, said, "I'll tell you, they're like savages." Malnor was cut on the face by a flying brick.

He called for an "overwhelming strike vote" by UAW members there to back up union negotiators. Polling of union members has been ordered among workers of all three companies.

The union, which never has accepted the first offer made, last week demanded company time was fast fading if a strike were to be avoided.

Enters 7th Week

New contract bargaining now is in its seventh week. Current three-year pacts run out at GM, Ford and Chrysler Aug. 31.

As "an absolute minimum," the UAW is demanding an economic gain of 4.9 per cent over current average hourly wages in the auto industry. The Bureau of Labor Statistics figures the current average hourly wage in the auto industry at $3.01. Current contracts carry an annual wage increase of 2.5 per cent.

Addresses Chairman

While the President was addressing him, Goldwater was addressing Republican state chairmen at a strategy session. Although the meeting was closed it was learned he said the American people are frightened about dishonesty in high places. He mentioned the Bobby Baker and Billie Sol Estes cases and said the Republicans may put out a book of "Bobby Baker nursery rhymes."

"We're thinking of calling it the butcher, the baker and the stereo taker," he said.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., ridiculed in a Senate speech Saturday Goldwater's positions on several matters, saying they could bring "risky changes in our national life."

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., told the California State Democratic convention in Sacramento that Goldwater "shoots from the lip."

Says Approach Radical

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., said on the Metropolitan Broadcasting Co. television program "Opinion in the Capitol" that Goldwater's "approach is a radical one in that it involves a rather violent departure from the traditional approach to politics at the presidential level."

House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., predicted on ABC's "Issues and Answers" that Goldwater will not carry more than eight states.

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., said on the CBS program "Face the Nation" that Republicans are going to make "the greatest retreat since Waterloo" from public positions Goldwater has taken on numerous issues.

In Miami Sunday night former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said he doesn't think Johnson would accuse Goldwater of political inconsistencies.

"It would be like the pot calling the kettle black," said the Republicans' 1960 presidential candidate.

Few men in political history ever have done as much "flip-flopping" in their positions as has Johnson, Nixon said.

Ronald Nagele

sometime later, it was learned today. It was also indicated that firemen, at first, had been led to believe that Mrs. Nagele, and grandson, were still inside.

Spreads from Kitchen

From the kitchen, firemen said, the fire spread to the lower floor living room, a bedroom and closet. Damage to the first-floor area and contents was extensive.

Cause of the blaze was listed as "undetermined."

Mrs. Charles Bonestell, noting that the fire brought a complete loss of clothing and furniture, has been assisting the victims in obtaining as many essential items as possible. Those interested in assisting, she said, may contact her. A crib and some clothing have been received she said, but indicated that such items as bedding are still needed.

A police investigation of a fire in old tires and rubbish on the John Otis property, 41 Boulevard, was requested Sunday afternoon. The fire was reported in progress near a garage while no one was at home. A unit from Wiltwyck Station answered a call at 3:27 p. m., with Capt. Edwin P. Murphy in charge, and the blaze was checked with a booster line.

Stratton Wants

for Kennedy came from a group of 12 prominent Democrats and from Edward N. Costikyan, Democratic leader of New York County — Manhattan.

The last public word from Kennedy was his week-old declaration that he would not consider running without "express approval" by Mayor Robert F. Wagner, the state's leading Democrat.

Wagner, who has repeatedly spoken favorably of Kennedy as a possible candidate, continued to withhold an endorsement.

CAR HITS ROCK LEDGE—Frank B. Murphy, 44, of 110 Tremper Avenue was treated at Benedictine Hospital for a nose injury Sunday after he allegedly fell asleep at the wheel of his car about 4 p. m. on Route 28 near Amherst Restaurant. According to a report by Deputy Sheriff Bernard Ellsworth and B. H. Wolven, who investigated, Murphy was proceeding south on Route 28 in the town of Hurley when his car crossed the highway and ran into a shale bank on the left of the highway. He was taken to the hospital by Doctor's ambulance. (Freeman photo)

Hercules Creates New Carpet Sales Promotion Group

The Fiber Department of Hercules Powder Company today announced the creation of a new Carpet Merchandising Group, together with a realignment of duties and personnel in the department's sales organization.

"The move reflects increasing consumer acceptance for carpets of Herculan and the growing demand from our carpet manufacturing customers for Herculan," said Robert Wier, director of sales for the department.

Benjamin M. Burr has been appointed manager of carpet merchandising. In his new post he will be responsible for merchandising, sales promotion, sales training and related marketing services for Herculan olefin fiber in carpets.

Reporting to Mr. Burr will be Grover C. Long as a carpet merchandising representative. He will be responsible for calling on carpet distributors and retailers and conducting retail sales training. He was formerly in the Cellulose & Protein Products Department.

Both Mr. Burr and Mr. Long will be headquartered in the New York office, reporting to J. S. McGilly, sales manager.

Rector Is Patient, Was Stricken Sunday

The Rev. F. H. Wielage, summer rector at St. John's Episcopal Church, is reported in satisfactory condition today at Kingston Hospital after collapsing during worship services Sunday.

He was taken to the hospital by A & A Ambulance Service at approximately 10:30 a. m. Sunday. It is reported that he is undergoing tests at the hospital today.

Father Wielage has been in charge of services at the local church during the Rev. Robert Shellenberger's vacation. He is a retired minister from Wisconsin and has been residing at St. John's rectory during his stay here.

Cement Dividend

CHICAGO—The regular third quarterly dividend on the common shares of Marquette Cement Manufacturing Company, amounting to 45 cents per share, will be paid September 9 to shareholders of record at the close of business on August 27.

This was authorized by the company's board of directors at a meeting here August 14. With 45 cents quarterly dividends having previously been paid on March 10 and June 9, the September dividend will bring payments to a total of $1.35 for the year to date. The same amount was paid in the comparable period last year.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

Investment Advisor and Analyst

With Retirement Ahead,
It's Time to Tidy Up

Q) "I am planning to retire next year and wonder if I should sell some of my speculative stocks at a loss or wait until they go up? I would feel more secure in American Tel. & Tel. At present I own shares of Ashland Oil, Copper Range, Lease Plan, and Aldens. What do you think of United Artists as an investment?" E. L.

A) Answering your last question first, I do not consider United Artists or any motion picture stock of investment quality, at this time. United Artists is very much of a speculation, but the company is making a remarkable earnings' comeback after last year's deficit.

With retirement in the offing, I feel it would be a wise move to set your financial house in order. There is nothing particularly wrong with any of your holdings to necessitate immediate sale, but they are not the type of issues "to retire with."

I believe your quality should be upgraded and suggest American Tel. & Tel., Philadelphia Electric, Sterling Drug, and J. C. Penney for replacement.

Q) "Do the United States Series E Savings Bonds, which presently mature in seven years and nine months after issuance, still continue to collect interest after they mature? If so, for how long and at what interest?" E. L.

A) The seven-year, nine-months Series E Bond is the shortest maturity offered and was first sold to the public in June, 1959. The Treasury Dept. has already stated that this Series E bond is to be granted an extension period. The rate of interest has not been decided, and many rates prevailing shortly before maturity will undoubtedly be the governing factor.

Meyer Brothers Annex National Chess Titles

John, a Yale sophomore, is the new United States Junior champion. He won the title at Baltimore last week with an impressive 8-0 record, with two draws. He was the only undefeated player in the tournament.

Eugene compiled a 5½-3½ score in the same tournament against all comers, including Chess Masters and Experts much older and more experienced. He is now the United States Under-13 chess champion.

This is the same title once held by Robert Fischer, the present American Champion and International Grand Master.

In Boston Tourney

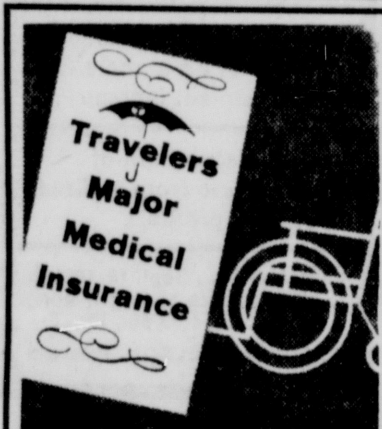

At present, John and his father, Frank Meyer, the noted author, editor and lecturer, are in Boston where they are both playing in the United States Open Chess Championships. This event will run August 16-29 and players from all over the world will compete.

Eugene Meyer will sit this one out, his parents having decided that the strain of two consecutive major tournaments might prove too much for the talented little fellow.

The Meyer brothers are both members of the Kings Knight Chess Club of Kingston. The local club proudly and rightfully boasts that it is the only chess club in the United States with its members from the same family holding national championships simultaneously.

Locals Unable To Mount Attack In Schenectady

Leaf fanned 12 batters and allowed more than one runner to reach base only in the sixth inning, when he walked a pair. The winners picked up a first inning run off loser Ronnie Thomas and added two more in the sixth. They had only four hits but used them to good advantage.

This was only the third time the locals played together as a team this season. Sponsored by Fred Davi and managed by Dick Bartsch, exhibition games are being planned before the season comes to a conclusion.

Hornung Sparks Green Bay Romp Over Giants

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

Paul Hornung came home and the Green Bay scorebook came to life again.

Hornung, under suspension throughout the 1963 National Football League season, sparked in his 1964 home exhibition debut before 42,327 well-wishers Saturday night, leading the Packers past the sputtering New York Giants 34-10.

Hornung, three-time NFL scoring champion, had a hand in 16 of his team's points against the injury-depleted Giants, who played the Packers even in the first half but fell apart in the last 30 minutes.

Hornung tossed a 59-yard scoring pass to Boyd Dowler on the halfback option, converted after each of the Packers' four touchdowns and kicked a pair of field goals.

The Notre Dame alumnus wasn't the only pro to make his points in week-end action involving National and American League teams.

The Cleveland Browns led a Sunday night offensive binge, routing the Los Angeles Rams 56-31 in an NFL exhibition behind the passing of Frank Ryan and Jim Ninkowski. The San Diego Chargers and Houston Oilers swapped touchdowns at a rapid clip before the Chargers won the AFL test in the final two minutes 44-38.

In other NFL games, the Dallas Cowboys riddled the San Francisco 49ers 34-23; the Minnesota Vikings won their second straight, stunning the St. Louis Cardinals 24-10, and the champion Chicago Bears held off the Washington Redskins 14-13.

Friday night, the Baltimore Colts and Detroit Lions played a 28-28 tie and the Pittsburgh Steelers fell before the revamped Philadelphia Eagles 24-13 in NFL games.

The Kansas City Chiefs edged the Buffalo Bills 24-21 and the Denver Broncos topped the Oakland Raiders 20-7 in AFL action.

The Boston Patriots and New York Jets, idle over the week end, have a Tuesday night AFL date at Lowell, Mass.

Stottlemire Picks Up Yanks; Phils Lose But Gain Ground

Stops Birds, 3-1, For 2nd Victory Since Recall

By JIM BECKER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Mel Stottlemire made his second vital start Sunday for the New York Yankees during Flag Fortnight, and came off with his second victory.

This time the 22-year-old right hander whipped the league-leading Baltimore Orioles 3-1. That moved the Yankees to within 2½ games of the Orioles, and started Manager Yogi Berra talking pennant.

A misjudged outfield fly helped the Yankees to their first two runs in the game, and a double case of the outfield staggers figured in the 2-1 victory the Chicago White Sox scored over the Red Sox at Boston.

The Chicago victory moved the second place White Sox to within two games of the top. The Yankees move on to Chicago now for four games that will wind up the two-week span during which they will have played the Orioles and White Sox 15 straight games.

In other American League games, Harmon-Killebrew hit his 42nd homer as the Minnesota Twins trounced the Cleveland Indians 13-2, the Detroit Tigers wallowed, Kansas City 11-5 and Washington defeated the Los Angeles Angels 4-1.

Stottlemire was called up from Richmond in the International League only last Tuesday in a mid-summer move to bolster the suddenly shaky Yankee pitching.

The next day he trimmed the White Sox 7-3, in a complete game. Sunday he went 8-2-3 in innings — Al Downing came in and got the last out — in the decision over the Orioles.

If things keep on like that, Mel will have a starting job in the World Series in October. It was 1-0 going into the seventh when Oriole starter Mill Pappas had to retire when his right arm stiffened up. Steve Barber came in, and Roger Maris promptly sliced a double to left. He went to third when Tom Tresh singled to deep short. Luis Aparicio got his glove on the ball and would have thrown Maris out at third but he couldn't hold it.

Then with one on, pinch hitter Elston Howard lashed a liner to right. Sam Bowens lost it in the lights which had been turned on in mid-game on an overcast day and played it into a double, with two runs scoring.

Joel Horlen, with help from Hoyt Wilhelm, got the victory, as the White Sox wound up the season 14-4 over the Red Sox.

Zoilo Versalles also homered for the homer-happy Twins, while Woody Held's homer in the eighth spoiled Jim Grant's bid for a shutout. The Twins swept the three-game series with the Indians, and Grant got his first victory over his old mates in three tries.

Dave Wickersham, traded to the Tigers by the A's before the season, posted his 14th victory, as Don Wert and George Thomas homered. The Athletics hit three homers. Rocky Colavito hit three and Jim Gentile his 19th and 20th.

Willie Kirkland, obtained on waivers last week, hit one of the longest homers ever in Washington's new stadium — a shot that landed in the 50-foot high mezzanine 400 feet from the plate — in the Senators victory. Ed Brinkman also homered and Buster Narum won his eighth game after 10 unsuccessful starts since June 21.

PITCHING — Sandy Koufax,

Dodgers, posted his seventh shutout and 19th victory of the season, allowing only seven hits and striking out 13 in a 3-0 opening game victory over St. Louis.

BATTING — Curt Flood, Cardinals, stroked four consecutive singles off Koufax in the opener, then collected four straight in the ninth inning.

Cassius Group Accepts WBA Bid

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) —

Representatives of the group sponsoring heavyweight champion Cassius Clay have accepted an invitation to appear before the World Boxing Association.

Bill Faversham, Clay's manager for the sponsors, said Sunday in a statement that he, attorney Gordon Davidson and other members of the group will appear "out of courtesy" and to keep boxing on the highest possible level.

The WBA has scheduled a hearing at its annual meeting starting Aug. 26 at Norfolk, Va. on a return bout between Clay and Sonny Liston.

The fight is scheduled in mid-November at an undecided site.

Physicals Set For RVC Grid Team Thursday

Meyer Brothers Annex National Chess Titles

The youthful Woodstock chess stars—John Meyer, 19, and his brother, Eugene, 12, have recently won two national chess championships.

John, a Yale sophomore, is the new United States Junior champion. He won the title at Baltimore last week with an impressive 8-0 record, with two draws. He was the only undefeated player in the tournament.

Eugene compiled a 5½-3½ score in the same tournament against all comers, including Chess Masters and Experts much older and more experienced. He is now the United States Under-13 chess champion.

This is the same title once held by Robert Fischer, the present American Champion and International Grand Master.

In Boston Tourney
At present, John and his father, Frank Meyer, the noted author, editor and lecturer, are in Boston where they are both playing in the United States Open Chess Championships. This event will run August 16-29 and players from all over the world will compete.

Eugene Meyer will sit this one out, his parents having decided that the strain of two consecutive major tournaments might prove too much for the talented little fellow.

The Meyer brothers are both members of the Kings Knight Chess Club of Kingston. The local club proudly and rightfully boasts that it is the only chess club in the United States with its members from the same family holding national championships simultaneously.

Locals Unable To Mount Attack In Schenectady

Tight pitching by Chuck Leaf enabled the Utica Koehlers to topple the Kingston Braves, 3-0, and eliminate the locals from the 6th annual baseball tournament at Central Park in Schenectady.

Leaf fanned 12 batters and allowed more than one runner to reach base only in the sixth inning, when he walked a pair.

The winners picked up a first inning run off loser Ronnie Thomas and added two more in the sixth. They had only four hits but used them to good advantage.

This was only the third time the locals played together as a team this season. Sponsored by Fred Davi and managed by Dick Bartsch, exhibition games are being planned before the season comes to a conclusion.

Hornung Sparks Green Bay Romp Over Giants

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

Paul Hornung came home and the Green Bay scoreboard came to life again.

Hornung, under suspension throughout the 1963 National Football League season, sparked in his 1964 home exhibition debut before 42,327 well-wishers Saturday night, leading the Packers past the sputtering New York Giants 34-10.

Hornung, three-time NFL scoring champion, had a hand in 16 of his team's points against the injury-depleted Giants, who played the Packers even in the first half but fell apart in the last 30 minutes.

Hornung tossed a 56-yard scoring pass to Boyd Dowler on the halfback option, converted after each of the Packers' four touchdowns and kicked a pair of field goals.

The Notre Dame alum was wasn't the only pro to make his points in week-end action involving National and American League teams.

The Cleveland Browns led a Saturday night offensive binge, routing the Los Angeles Rams 56-21 in an NFL exhibition behind the passing of Frank Ryan and Jim Ninowski. The San Diego Chargers and Houston Oilers swapped touchdowns at a rapid clip before the Chargers won the AFL test in the final two minutes 44-38.

In other NFL games, the Dallas Cowboys riddled the San Francisco 49ers 34-23; the Minnesota Vikings won their second straight, stunning the St. Louis Cardinals 24-10, and the champion Chicago Bears held off the Washington Redskins 14-13.

Friday night, the Baltimore Colts and Detroit Lions played a 28-28 tie and the Pittsburgh Steelers fell before the revamped Philadelphia Eagles 24-13 in NFL games.

The Kansas City Chiefs edged the Buffalo Bills 24-21 and the Denver Broncos topped the Oakland Raiders 20-7 in AFL activity.

The Boston Patriots and New York Jets, idle over the weekend, have a Tuesday night AFL date at Lowell, Mass.

Stottlemire Picks Up Yanks; Phils Lose But Gain Ground

By JIM BECKER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Mel Stottlemire made his second vital start Sunday for the New York Yankees during Flag Fortnight, and came off with his second victory.

This time the 22-year-old right hander whipped the league-leading Baltimore Orioles 3-1. That moved the Yankees to within 2½ games of the Orioles, and started Manager Yogi Berra talking pennant.

A misjudged outfield fly helped the Yankees to their first two runs in the game, and a double case of the outfield staggers figured in the 2½ victory the Chicago White Sox scored over the Red Sox at Boston.

The Chicago victory moved the second place White Sox to within two games of the top. The Yankees move on to Chicago now for four games that will wind up the two-week span during which they will have played the Orioles and White Sox 15 straight games.

In other American League games, Harmon-Killebrew hit his 42nd homer as the Minnesota Twins trounced the Cleveland Indians 13-2, the Detroit Tigers topped Kansas City 11-5 and Washington defeated the Los Angeles Angels 4-1.

Stottlemire was called up from Richmond in the International League only last Tuesday in a mid-summer move to bolster the suddenly shaky Yankee pitching.

The next day he trimmed the White Sox 7-3, in a complete game. Sunday he went 8-2-3 in innings — Al Downing came in and got the last out — in the decision over the Orioles.

If things keep on like that, Mel will have a starting job in the World Series in October.

It was 1-0 going into the seventh, when Oriole starter Milt Pappas had to retire when his right arm stiffened up. Steve Barber came in, and Roger Maris promptly sliced a double to left. He went to third when Tom Tresh singled to deep short. Luis Aparicio got his glove on the ball and would have thrown Maris out at third but he couldn't hold it.

Then with one on, pinch hitter Elston Howard lashed a liner to right. Sam Bowens lost it in the lights which had been turned on in mid-game on an overcast day and played it into a double, with two runs scoring.

Joel Horlen, with help from Hoyt Wilhelm, got the victory, as the White Sox wound up the season 14-4 over the Red Sox.

Zolo Versalles also homered for the homer-happy Twins, while Woody Held's homer in the eighth spoiled Jim Grant's bid for a shutout. The Twins swept the three-game series with the Indians, and Grant got his first victory over his old mates in three tries.

Dave Wickenscham, traded to the Tigers by the A's before the season, posted his 14th victory, as Don Wert and George Thomas homered. The Athletics hit three homers, Rocky Colavito hit his 29th and Jim Gentile his 19th and 20th.

Willie Kirkland, obtained on waivers last week, hit one of the longest homers ever in Washington's new stadium — a shot that landed in the 50-foot high mezzanine 400 feet from the plate — in the Senators victory. Ed Brinkman also homered and Buster Narum won his eighth game after 10 unsuccessful starts since June 21.

Sport Club Tops Albany Italians, 7-2, as Riot Breaks Out

Locals Need Police Escort To Leave Field

Kingston Sport Club players won a 7-2 decision over the Albany Italians Sunday at Bleeker Stadium in Albany and then had to have a police escort off the field and into the locker room after a riot broke out seven minutes from the end of the tension packed game.

The Central New York Soccer league game was a replay of a previous game, awarded to the locals when the upstarters walked off the field in protest to an official's decision.

The Italians protested and were awarded a forfeit win. Kingston then appealed to the Southern New York Soccer Assn. and the decision was to replay the contest.

In the playoff game, the locals jumped to a 3-0 lead in the first 12 minutes and completely throttled the fired-up home side the rest of the way.

As the Sport Club kept increasing the lead, the home side, with help from the fans, started to get restless and tempers started to flare. Finally, seven minutes from the end, a king sized riot took place.

Awarded Game
The referee, unable to control the frenzied fans, quickly awarded the game to Kingston. The Sport Club players had to rush to the defense of the officials, who were being attacked by the fans.

Several squad cars arrived and escorted the officials and the Kingston players to the dressing room, while most of the crowd, estimated at between 500 and 800, tried to follow.

As for the game itself, the locals tallied at the eight minute mark when Peter Fuchs passed a smart corner kick to Bill Newmershinsky, who put the ball into the net.

At the 10 minute mark, Fuchs beat the goalie with a nifty shot. A smart pass from Carlo Bustamante to Newmershinsky made it 3-0 just two minutes later.

Albany changed goalies after the third Kingston score but Rhinehardt beat the substitute with a kick, making it, 4-0, in favor of Kingston.

The home side tallied a pair of quick goals early in the second half to creep to within 4-2. The upstarters never came any closer as Newmershinsky tallied twice and Bustamante once more to put the contest out of reach.

Kingston will now await the second game of the championship playoff against the Albany Athletic Club. The Sport Club won a 4-1 decision the first time and only has to finish the two-game playoff with more goals than the AC to emerge as league champion for a third straight season.

Sport Club lineup:

Dodgers Win Over Mets, 7-5, To Take National LL Title

Trailing 3-0 going into the sixth inning of the National Little League's championship game, the Dodgers tied the score on Tig Darwak's home run.

When the Mets failed to score off Steve Ellsworth in the bottom of the sixth, the contest went into extra innings. The Dodgers racked up four runs but the best the Mets could counter with was two runs. So it was a 7-5 Dodger victory and with it the 1964 NLL title.

The game featured several fielding heroes. Jim La Torre, Mets' left fielder, was credited with five great catches to rob Dodgers of potential extra base hits.

Brian Buboltz, the Dodger second baseman, made a fine stop on Paul DeCicco's hot smash in the bottom of the sixth which could have scored two runs and tied the score.

Steve Ellsworth, who relieved starter Don Fitzgerald, was credited with the victory. Paul DeCicco went the route for the Mets. Ellsworth and DeCicco each collected two hits. Tom Mannello, Mike Fisher and Jim La Torre rapped doubles.

Staten Island Cops LL Title

EASTCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—One-hit pitching by Bob Nugent and five errors by Rome Saturday gave the Mid Island team of Staten Island a 3-0 victory over Rome and with it, the New York State Little League Baseball Championship.

Mid Island qualified for the eastern regional tournament at Morristown, N.J., this week. The winner there will go to the Little League World Series at Williamsport, Pa.

In the consolation game Saturday, New Hyde Park of Long Island downed Corning, 4-0.

Mid Island, which failed to score an earned run in the three-day tournament, got all its runs in the first inning without a hit. Two Rome errors on ground balls and a fielders choice filled the bases. The scores came on a wild throw to the plate and successive late attempts by Rome infielders for force plays at the plate, that came too late.

Jack Davis, Rome's losing pitcher, yielded only two singles and got six strikeouts, three of them in the first inning.

Wins at Finger Lakes

CANANDAIGUA, N.Y. (AP)—Her Favourite, starting for the first time, posted a two-length victory Saturday in the $5,825 New York Breeders Futurity at Finger Lakes Race Track.

The race was open only to two-year-olds bred in New York State.

Her favourite, ridden by George Gibb, came on after trailing by three lengths at the head of the stretch in the six-furlong race. Mobile Priam, the odds-on choice, was second, with Perfumo third.

Her favourite, bred by William Ewing of Mount Kisco, was timed in 1:16 and paid $22-10.

A crowd of 8,443 wagered $24,722 at the pari-mutuels.

McLaughlin Paces Middletown Races

Jackie McLaughlin rode home ahead of fast charging Frankie Schneider to capture this sixth stock car feature race of the season Saturday night at Victory Speedway in Middletown.

Change Schedule In Cage League

A chance in tonight's Summer Basketball League schedule has been made known by Andrew J. Murphy, III, Superintendent of Recreation. The change was made in order not to conflict with Babe Ruth League baseball games.

The revised schedule:
7 p. m. — Hasbrouck vs. Block (Adult).
8 p. m. — Loughran vs. George Washington (Jr.).
9 p. m. — Forsyth vs. Block (Jr.).

Courtney Wins St. Paul Open

ST. PAUL (AP) — Young Chuck Courtney, a freshman on the professional golf circuit, did some positive thinking, convinced himself he was a good putter and wound up with the championship in the $65,000 St. Paul Open.

The LaJolla, Calif., golfer, 23, pocketed $11,500 Sunday in taking his first tournament crown. He joined the pro tour for the first time in January.

Courtney overtook a scrambled field early Sunday and shot a five-under-par 66 for the second straight day. His 72-hole total of 272 was 12-under-par for the Keller course and put him three shots ahead of Charlie Siford of Los Angeles, Jack McGowan of Largo, Fla., and Rod Funseth of Spokane.

Courtney had a feeling when he came here that maybe it was time for him to start winning. "I'd been playing good golf for the past few weeks, and nothing was happening," he said. "All I lacked was the putting. So, for this tournament, I told myself I was a good putter. That seemed to do the trick."

Women Amateurs Set For Qualifying Rounds

By JOE MCKNIGHT
HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — Contestants kept close check on the weather today as the smallest field in 14 years began qualifying rounds for the National Women's Amateur Golf Tournament.

"These girls are worried about what will happen if the wind comes up," said pro Ross Wilson of the Prairie Dunes Country Club. "They've been practicing in calm weather this weekend. But Kansas is noted for its winds and I expect it to come up out of the Southwest any time now."

Of 101 players entered, 20 have withdrawn. The 1951 tournament attracted 79 entries and since then the list has ranged from 100 to 195.

Qualifying will be through 36 holes ending Tuesday, with the low 32 scorers going into match-play competition Wednesday. The 36-hole championship match will be played Saturday.

Plumber Retains Archery Title

Robert MacIvane shot 1,377 to clinch the title Sunday at the close of the three-day meet.

Gloria Jones of Buffalo, confined to a wheelchair, scored 863 to retain her amateur women's title in the tournament. She is a member of the Buffalo Boosters Wheelchair Athletic Club, organized for persons confined to a wheelchair who participate in sporting events.

Douglas Brisbane of Rochester, a soft drink salesman, won the field, hunter and big game rounds with a total score of 1,599 to emerge the victor in the men's 400 free-style event.

Third place in the free-style went to Leo Baldwin of Wells-ville, a four-time state titleholder, who scored 1,513.

Ed Palladino's MR Selections

UPSET CHANCE — Lone Scot (4th).

1. PRINCE YONDER stopped in the stretch the last time. Might go all the way here. SAM SANDERS another front runner. MARCHING GAY is the closer. Has a chance.

2. CIASSON CORPORAL made up the three lengths in the last 200 yards. Ready to pop. GIL PRIMROSE doesn't show much but will be tough from the pole. POLA SCOTT has a lot of ground to make up.

3. NEVELE GOURMET in splendid form. Moves up in class but appears tough from the pole. JOHN MICHAEL can close but must remain close. MARY'S MARIANN has beaten better than these.

4. DANCING DEMON can't drop much lower. LONE SCOT seems to be back in early season form. Tab for an upset. DISCRETION seeks third straight but post hurts.

5. MISS NEVELE won last with something to spare. The best bet. FOUND FREIGHT is the one to beat. Just missed the last time. ROAN FLYER is very inconsistent.

6. JULIA SLATOR had trouble making turns and still won easily. Can it again, even from here. OUR ADIOS is razor sharp. The one to beat. GARD SCOTT always close.

7. GLEN COVE COLONEL switches from DeSimone to Fretti. Enough said. CHAPELDALE is always tough inside. COLD SPRING MARYAN and Popfinger a good team.

8. GRAND DARNLEY appears ready after a couple of good races. MISS FILIBUSTER couldn't get out and had the last time. Could repeat.

9. LORD MELBURN is the best in this race but must get a top rated ride. BOWL OF FLOWERS won with a break. MONTREAL MIR isn't much.

7—Guess Again, F. Popfinger, 6-1
8—Nevele Kathleen, W. Popfinger, 5-1

NINTH RACE

Locals Need Police Escort To Leave Field

Kingston Sport Club players won a 7-2 decision over the Albany Italians Sunday at Bleeker Stadium in Albany and then had to have a police escort off the field and into the locker room after a riot broke out seven minutes from the end of the tension packed game.

The Central New York Soccer league game was a replay of a previous game, awarded to the locals when the upstaters walked off the field in protest to an official's decision.

The Italians protested and were awarded a forfeit win. Kingston then appealed to the Southern New York State Soccer Assn. and the decision was to replay the contest.

In the playoff game, the locals jumped to a 3-0 lead in the first 12 minutes and completely throttled the fired-up home side the rest of the way.

As the Sport Club kept increasing the lead, the home side, with help from the fans, started to get restless and tempers started to flare. Finally, seven minutes from the end, a king sized riot took place.

Awarded Game
The referee, unable to control the frenzied fans, quickly awarded the game to Kingston. The Sport Club players had to rush to the defense of the officials, who were being attacked by the fans.

Several squad cars arrived and escorted the officials and the Kingston players to the dressing room, while most of the crowd, estimated at between 500 and 800, tried to follow.

As for the game itself, the locals tallied at the eight minute mark when Peter Fuchs passed a smart corner kick to Bill Newmershinsky, who put the ball into the net.

At the 10 minute mark, Fuchs beat the goalie with a nifty shot. A smart pass from Carlo Bustamante to Newmershinsky made it 3-0 just two minutes later.

Albany changed goalies after the third Kingston score but Rhinehardt beat the substitute with a kick, making it, 4-0, in favor of Kingston.

The home side tallied a pair of quick goals early in the second half to creep to within 4-2. The upstaters never came any closer as Newmershinsky tallied twice and Bustamante once more to put the contest out of reach.

Kingston will now await the second game of the championship playoff against the Albany Athletic Club. The Sport Club won a 4-1 decision the first time and only has to finish the two-game playoff with more goals than the AC to emerge as league champion for a third straight season.

Sport Club lineup:

Dodgers Win Over Mets, 7-5, To Take National LL Title

Trailing 3-0 going into the sixth inning of the National Little League's championship game, the Dodgers tied the score on Tig Darwark's home run.

When the Mets failed to score off Steve Ellsworth in the bottom of the sixth, the contest went into extra innings. The Dodgers racked up four runs but the best the Mets could counter with was two runs. So it was a 7-5 Dodgers victory and with it the 1964 NLL title.

The game featured several fielding heroics. Jim La Torre, Mets' left fielder, was credited with five great catches to rob Dodgers of potential extra base hits.

Brian Buboltz, the Dodger second baseman, made a fine stop on Paul DeCicco's hot smash in the bottom of the sixth which could have scored two runs and tied the score.

Steve Ellsworth, who relieved starter Don Fitzgerald, was credited with the victory. Paul DeCicco went the route for the Mets. Ellsworth and DeCicco each collected two hits. Tom Mannello, Mike Fisher and Jim La Torre rapped doubles.

Staten Island Cops LL Title

EASTCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) —One-hit pitching by Bob Nugent and five errors by Rome Saturday gave the Mid Island team of Staten Island a 3-0 victory over Rome and with it, the New York State Little League Baseball Championship.

Mid Island qualified for the eastern regional tournament at Morristown, N.J., this week. The winner there will go to the Little League World Series at Williamsport, Pa.

In the consolation game Saturday, New Hyde Park of Long Island downed Corning, 4-0.

Mid Island, which failed to score an earned run in the three-day tournament, got all its runs in the first inning without a hit. Two Rome errors on ground balls and a fielders choice filled the bases. The scores came on a wild throw to the plate and successive late attempts by Rome infielders for force plays at the plate, that came too late.

Jack Davis, Rome's losing pitcher, yielded only two singles and got six strikeouts, three of them in the first inning. Scores by innings:

Women Amateurs Set For Qualifying Rounds

By JOE MCKNIGHT
HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) —Contestants kept close check on the weather today as the small-field in 14 years began qualifying rounds for the National Women's Amateur Golf Tournament.

"These girls are worried about what will happen if the wind comes up," said pro Ross Wilson of the Prairie Dunes Country Club. "They've been practicing in calm weather this week. But Kansas is noted for its winds and I expect it to come up out of the Southwest any time now."

Of 101 players entered, 20 have withdrawn. The 1951 tournament attracted 79 entries and since then the list has ranged from 100 to 195.

Qualifying will be through 36 holes ending Tuesday, with the low 32 scorers going into match-play competition Wednesday. The 36-hole championship match will be played Saturday.

Plumber Retains Archery Title

Robert MacIvane shot 1,377 to clinch the title Sunday at the close of the three-day meet.

Gloria Jones of Buffalo, confined to a wheelchair, scored 863 to retain her amateur women's title in the tournament. She is a member of the Buffalo Boosters Wheelchair Athletic Club, organized for persons confined to a wheelchair who participate in sporting events.

Douglas Brisbane of Rochester, a soft drink salesman, won the field, hunter and big game rounds with a total score of 1,599 to emerge the victor in the men's 400 free-style event.

Third place in the free-style went to Leo Baldwin of Wellsville, a four-time state titleholder, who scored 1,518.

Ernie Beesmer Captures Feature at Accord Speedway

Ernie Beesmer grabbed the lead on the 19th lap after working his way through the pace from 10th position and captured the 25-lap feature for limited sportsman Sunday at Accord Speedway.

Pete Keator was second with Warren Nissen, Harold Montanye, George Legg and John VanLeuvan following in that order.

Heat winners were Gene Temple and Pat Patterson. Herb Budd won the consolation event. Gordon Hall led most of the way to capture the 20-lap sedan feature. Ron Santosky, Jim Sterritt, Pete Pensa and Al Dymond chased him across the finish line. Hall and Dymond were the sedan heat winners.

Sportsmen summaries:
First heat — Gene Temple, Cottekill; Pete Keator, Kerkonson; Warren Nissen, Ashokan.
Second heat — Pat Patterson, Rosy; John VanLeuvan, Poughkeepsie; Floyd Rose, Napanoch. Consolation — Herb Budd, Napanoch; Donnie Smith, Claryville; Ray Curry, Grahamsville.

Feature — Ernie Beesmer, Olive Bridge; Pete Keator, Kerkonson; Warren Nissen, Ashokan; Harold Montanye, Kerkonson; George Legg, Napanoch; John VanLeuvan, Poughkeepsie.

Sedans
First heat — Al Dymond, Sundown; Ron Santosky, Rosendale; Jim Sterritt, Catskill.
Second heat — Gordon Hall, Kingston; Pat Dalcene, Mahoning.

Temperature Normals—Daytime highs 76-82. Nighttime lows 56-62.

Drivers Charged After Weekend Local Accidents

Edward J. Wroblewski, 46, of 111½ Spring Street, was charged with driving while intoxicated, and passing a stop-sign, after a two-car collision at Wurts and Spring Streets, reported at 12:15 a.m.

Wroblewski indicated in court today that he is to obtain counsel and hearing was put over to Tuesday. He was released in the custody of a relative.

Police said the other car was driven by Vincent Abbaticchio, 45, of 1553 78th Street, Brooklyn.

Officer Raymond Wells and John Kennedy investigated.

Vincent G. Bradley, 24, of 106 Highland Avenue, was issued a summons charging lack of an operator's license, after a car-pedestrian mishap, reported at 5:30 p.m. Saturday, at Abel and Post Streets. Police said Donald Rousier Jr., 4, of 32 Abel Street, suffered an abrasion of the left forearm, when he darted from one side of the street into the path of the car. The boy was treated at the Benedictine Hospital. Bradley is due in city court Aug. 22. Officers Frank Kennedy and Leon Fitzgerald investigated.

PLAN ANNUAL BAZAAR — Members of the 35 Club of Kingston this week made final plans for the first annual bazaar to be held Wednesday at the grounds of School No. 4, 229 Delaware Avenue. The Furs, a popular rock and roll combination, will provide music for dancing. The bazaar will feature a twist con-

Mahar Proposes More School Aid By 1 PC Tax Hike

Legislation for increased state aid to school districts by means of a statewide one per cent income tax or a one per cent retail sales tax to relieve local real estate taxpayers, will be proposed by Thomas D. Mahar, Democratic candidate for State Senator, if he is elected next fall.

Mahar, town of Poughkeepsie supervisor and chairman of the Dutchess County Board of Supervisors, is seeking the state office to represent Dutchess, Columbia and Putnam counties.

He said he would propose the increase in income tax or a retail sales tax to the State Legislature, if he is successful in the November election.

"Relief from the present 100 per cent payment plan, with resulting high penalty rates on delinquent returns, is long overdue," Mahar said. He added that his Republican opponent R. Watson Pomeroy "should have taken a firmer stand on this unsolved problem."

Mahar also made known that if he is elected he would seek state legislation to permit quarterly payments of school taxes.

Driver Injured As Truck Spins Off Greene Road

A 31-year-old bakery truck driver was injured seriously at 5:50 p.m. Sunday, when a vehicle he was driving went out of control on Route 23A, Town of Prattsville, and overturned down a 50-foot embankment, according to Leeds State Police.

Troopers said Riley Osborne, of Hunter, was treated at the scene and rushed to the Greene County Memorial Hospital, Catskill. He suffered a possible broken neck, fracture jaw, facial lacerations and numerous bruises and contusions of the body.

State Police reported the truck was traveling on the highway about a mile east of Route 23 when it went off the right shoulder, hit a guard rail and overturned down the embankment where it came to rest on its right side about 50 feet off the highway. It was reported the truck was owned by the Hunter Bakery.

Turnau's Double Bill Scores Hit With Critics

The current attraction being offered by the Turnau Opera Players of Woodstock, at least through Tuesday, consists of two operas, Monteverdi's "Il Combattimento di Tancredi e Clorinda" and Gian-Carlo Menotti's "Medium."

The double bill opened Friday evening and provided melodramatic and superior entertainment.

"Combattimento" was first performed in Venice in 1624 and was, for its time, quite an innovation. Monteverdi was not only one of the earliest composers of opera but also one of the first to use instruments to describe action and movement.

"Combattimento" is hardly an opera in the conventional sense, but more like a cantata for three voices—the narrator and the two protagonists. Monteverdi's original score called for pantomime by the actors during the narrated portions and this is how it was done Friday night.

In a previous production the Turnau company used dancers for the action and singers in the pit. We found it effective both ways.

Has Unique Quality

"Il Combattimento" is one long, uninterrupted recitative and achieves the quality of heightened speech for which subsequent opera "reformers" have striven, e.g., Gluck, Wagner, Moussorgsky and Debussy. And with the utmost economy of harmonic means—mostly triads. We were most impressed with the off-beat staccato chords (hockets) used to represent sword thrusts as the narrator describes the battle.

The singers were Doris Mayes as the narrator and Sean Barker and Drusilla Lodge as Tancredi and Clorinda respectively. Mr. Barker and Miss Lodge not only sang well, although briefly, but pantomimed skillfully and with emotional concentration. The biggest singing role was that of the narrator, which Miss Mayes sang with feeling and good voice quality. All three singers returned in the "Medium" in minor roles. Here, too, they performed well, and Miss Mayes' intonation improved noticeably.

Grisly Thriller

"The Medium" was, of course, the principal attraction, a grisly thriller which found its mark Friday evening. There is no doubt that this opera makes successful musical theatre although it has no great "numbers" as such. Menotti's melodic gift extends to the creation of poignant tunes in four-bar phrases, but they serve their purposes. The most effective, I thought, was Monica's waltz, which communicates wistfulness at an apt moment. Otherwise, Menotti knows how to use speech rhythms in his voice lines, and he keeps them singable—saving his "modern stuff" for the action music in the orchestra.

Citizens Group Will Press for Police Hearing

The Woodstock Town Board is scheduled to hold its monthly meeting Tuesday night at 8 o'clock at town hall.

While the matter of a public hearing on alleged police brutality by the Woodstock constabulary is not on the agenda, it is almost certain to be raised from the floor.

A group of citizens headed by author Ted Sturgeon has been pressing the town board for a public hearing since the issue was raised by petition at the July meeting.

The demand for a public hearing stems from incidents of alleged police brutality alleged to have occurred during a fracas on the Village Green early in July.

Promised Hearing

At the July meeting of the town board, after pointedly noting that the board was not compelled to recognize persons in the audience, Supervisor Abram F. Molyneux promised Sturgeon and the group of petitioners that a public meeting would be held.

Up to this date the meeting has not been held.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Sylvia Kondolf, editor of the Woodstock Week, said today she has in her possession a letter signed by one of the two youths arrested in the July incident. The youth, who is on the staff of a nearby summer camp, charges that he was assaulted by a Woodstock constable after the arrest.

Wallkill Board To Discuss Bond For High School

A proposed $45,000 bond issue for the purchase of a site for a new senior high school at Route 300 and 208 near the Wallkill airport, will be discussed at a meeting of the Board of Education of that community's Central School District on Sept. 3.

A spokesman for the school board said plans are under study for a new high school to replace the present school building. The latter school building would become a junior high school, it was said.

In addition to acquiring the site at Routes 300 and 208, other alternatives under consideration are to start double sessions, rent outside classrooms, curtail the high school program or permit larger classes.

Drivers Charged After Weekend Local Accidents

A driver was booked on two charges after a downtown traffic mishap early today and another was issued a summons after a Saturday accident.

Edward J. Wroblewski, 46, of 111½ Spring Street, was charged with driving while intoxicated, and passing a stop-sign, after a two-car collision at Wurts and Spring Streets, reported at 12:15 a. m.

Wroblewski indicated in court today that he is to obtain counsel and hearing was put over to Tuesday. He was released in the custody of a relative.

Police said the other car was driven by Vincent Abbaticchio, 45, of 1553 78th Street, Brooklyn.

Lucy Abbaticchio, 45, of the same address, was taken to Kingston Hospital for treatment of injuries of the right leg and left hand, and Wroblewski reported a shoulder injury.

Officer Raymond Weiss and John Kennedy investigated. Vincent G. Bradley, 24, of 106 Highland Avenue, was issued a summons charging lack of an operator's license, after a car-pedestrian mishap, reported at 5:30 p. m. Saturday, at Abel and Post Streets. Police said Donald Rouzier Jr., 4, of 32 Abel Street, suffered an abrasion of the left forearm, when he darted from one side of the street into the path of the car. The boy was treated at the Benedictine Hospital. Bradley is due in court Aug. 22. Officers Frank Kennedy and Leon Fitzgerald investigated.

Mahar Proposes More School Aid By 1 PC Tax Hike

Legislation for increased state aid to school districts by means of a statewide one per cent income tax or a one per cent retail sales tax to relieve local real estate taxpayers, will be proposed by Thomas D. Mahar, Democratic candidate for State Senator, if he is elected next fall.

Mahar, town of Poughkeepsie supervisor and chairman of the Dutchess County Board of Supervisors, is seeking the state office to represent Dutchess, Columbia and Putnam counties.

He said he would propose the increase in income tax or a retail sales tax to the State Legislature, if he is successful in the November election.

"Relief from the present 100 per cent payment plan, with resulting high penalty rates on delinquent returns, is long overdue," Mahar said. He added that his Republican opponent R. Watson Pomeroy "should have taken a firmer stand on this unsolved problem."

Mahar also made known that if he is elected he would seek state legislation to permit quarterly payments of school taxes.

Driver Injured As Truck Spins Off Greene Road

A 31-year-old bakery truck driver was injured seriously at 5:50 p. m. Sunday, when a vehicle he was driving went out of control on Route 23A, Town of Prattsville, and overturned down a 50-foot embankment, according to Leeds State Police.

Troopers said Riley Osborne, of Hunter, was treated at the scene and rushed to the Greene County Memorial Hospital, Catskill. He suffered a possible broken neck, fracture jaw, facial lacerations and numerous bruises and contusions of the body.

State Police reported the truck was traveling on the highway about a mile east of Route 23 when it went off the right shoulder, hit a guard rail and overturned down the embankment where it came to rest on its right side about 50 feet off the highway. It was reported the truck was owned by the Hunter Bakery.

Turnau's Double Bill Scores Hit With Critics

The current attraction being offered by the Turnau Opera Players of Woodstock, at least through Tuesday, consists of two operas, Monteverdi's "Il Combattimento di Tancredi e Clorinda" and Gian-Carlo Menotti's "Medium." The double bill opened Friday evening and provided melodramatic and superior entertainment.

"Combattimento" was first performed in Venice in 1624 and was, for its time, quite an innovation. Monteverdi was not only one of the earliest composers of opera but also one of the first to use instruments to describe action and movement — horses galloping, swords clashing, etc. "Combattimento" is hardly an opera in the conventional sense, but more like a cantata for three voices — the narrator and the two protagonists. Monteverdi's original score called for pantomime by the actors during the narrated portions and this is how it was done Friday night. In a previous production the Turnau company used dancers for the action and singers in the pit. We found it effective both ways.

Has Unique Quality

"Il Combattimento" is one long, uninterrupted recitative and achieves the quality of heightened speech for which subsequent opera "reformers" have striven, e.g., Gluck, Wagner, Moussorgsky and Debussy. And with the utmost economy of harmonic means—mostly triads. We were most impressed with the off-beat staccato chords (hockets) used to represent sword thrusts as the narrator describes the battle.

The singers were Doris Mayes as the narrator and Sean Barker and Drusilla Lodge as Tancredi and Clorinda respectively. Mr. Barker and Miss Lodge not only sang well, although briefly, but pantomimed skillfully and with emotional concentration. The biggest singing role was that of the narrator which Miss Mayes sang with feeling and good voice quality. All three singers returned in the "Medium" in minor roles. Here, too, they performed well, and Miss Mayes' intonation improved noticeably.

Grisly Thriller

"The Medium" was, of course, the principal attraction, a grisly thriller which found its mark Friday evening. There is no doubt that this opera makes successful musical theatre although it has no great "numbers" as such. Menotti's melodic gift extends to the creation of poignant tunes in four-bar phrases, but they serve their purposes. The most effective, I thought, was Monica's waltz, which communicates wistfulness at an apt moment. Otherwise, Menotti knows how to use speech rhythms in his voice lines, and he keeps them singable—saving his "modern stuff" for the action music in the orchestra.

Karen Steinke was a hit in the leading role. Her low tones are powerful, her high fortes brilliant, and her acting utterly convincing as the terror-stricken medium. Carolyn Headner was a charming Monica—she sang best in her lyric voice. Konstantine Kollaros played well as the mute Toby, a difficult role to project for a non-dancer. But it can be done, as he demonstrated. Both operas were well staged and directed by Ian Strasfogel. We liked the battle scenery in "Combattimento." The musical direction and piano playing of Yehudi Wyner and Warren Wilson are incomparable. Outstanding were the rapid repeated notes and chords in "Combattimento" and the low tone clusters, ppp, in the "Medium." (spook noises). Also the lovely Prelude to Act II.—VICTOR LANDAU.

Citizens Group Will Press for Police Hearing

The Woodstock Town Board is scheduled to hold its monthly meeting Tuesday night at 8 o'clock at town hall.

While the matter of a public hearing on alleged police brutality by the Woodstock constabulary is not on the agenda, it is almost certain to be raised from the floor.

A group of citizens headed by author Ted Sturgeon has been pressing the town board for a public hearing since the issue was raised by petition at the July meeting.

The demand for a public hearing stems from incidents of alleged police brutality alleged to have occurred during a fracas on the Village Green early in July.

Promised Hearing

At the July meeting of the town board, after pointedly noting that the board was not compelled to recognize persons in the audience, Supervisor Abram F. Molyneux promised Sturgeon and the group of petitioners that a public meeting would be held.

Up to this date the meeting has not been held. Meanwhile, Mrs. Sylvia Kondolf, editor of the Woodstock Week, said today she has in her possession a letter signed by one of the two youths arrested in the July incident. The youth, who is on the staff of a nearby summer camp, charges that he was assaulted by a Woodstock constable after the arrest.

Wallkill Board To Discuss Bond For High School

A proposed $45,000 bond issue for the purchase of a site for a new senior high school at Route 300 and 208 near the Wallkill airport, will be discussed at a meeting of the Board of Education of that community's Central School District on Sept. 3.

A spokesman for the school board said plans are under study for a new high school to replace the present school building. The latter school building would become a junior high school, it was said.

Presently there are four elementary schools in the district, at Leptondale, Modena, Plattkill and Wallkill.

The proposed site was defeated last week by 470-378.

In addition to acquiring the site at Routes 300 and 208, other alternatives under consideration are to start double sessions, rent outside classrooms, curtail the high school program or permit larger classes.
